WOULD KILL INTERCHURCH STEEL REPORT

Bishop M'Connell Describes Big Drive Against Document

SENATE HEARS STORY

Department of Justice Back of Effort to Stifle Report, Claim

By LAURENCE TODD
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — "Are you a real bishop, as is here alleged?" asked Sen. Kenyon of Bishop John M'Connell of Pittsburgh, Methodist, as the churchman came before the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, to explain the steel industry report made by the Industrial Department of the Interchurch World Movement.

The claim that Bishop McConnell had "radical" had been made in a typewritten document filed with the committee by the National Association of Sheet and Tin Plate Manufacturers of Pittsburgh, before the Senate had been asked by Senator Walsh of Montana to print the Interchurch steel report as a public document.

"I have always had a suspicion," replied the bishop, "that maybe I might what he said about a good many things. However, I have always voted one of the old-party tickets."

Both Bishop McConnell and Dr. Judge Poling, who was vice-chairman of the steel investigating committee, and Heiner Blankenhorn who was its field secretary, explained the nationwide propaganda against this steel report.

Coming back to the Department of Justice we have traced the activities of the undercover agents who directed by the chamber of commerce and the steel companies and it is clear that they had [illegible] were employed shortly after the announcement which was made in Washington and circulars which are now in the possession of the Interchurch committee. For more than a year have been systematically employed in every state in the union and numerous persons or institutions are still coming back to after our preliminary report.

The Manufacturers' Association through its secretary [illegible] issued the substance of charges against us and our report under the title "The Truth about the Interchurch Report." The Interchurch committee at its meeting and named a committee to sift the charges. Two members of the Manufacturers' association John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were on the committee. They reported quickly that the charges were false and without foundation. After that Mr. Jennings issued a circular of retraction and apology.

Upon an abject letter of apology from the Ohio red-catcher [illegible] to the Senate committee, Bishops of Colorado, former counsel of the Carnegie Steel Co., counsel for steel in this strike. He asserted that Judge Gary was perfectly willing to meet with employes, and that there was a current public demand for the publication of a report which the church had gotten out. Bishop McConnell then disclosed that he had been personally called on by McConnell, during the strike informed that McConnell had in his pocket the signed statement of the 24 A. F. of L. international unions in charge of the strike to withdraw from the conference if Gary would meet and make peace with the committees of his own employes, for whom the Interchurch committee should act as arbitrator. Gary had refused flatly to deal with his own employes in any such manner. His bluff as to representing his own employes, even under the neutral auspices of the Brotherhood of Christ, had been called. The Interchurch report will be recommended to the Senate by the Committee on Labor.

Blaine Tells Farmers That Speculators Wrought Havoc

Says That Revised System of Credit is Necessary; Would be Used to Stabilize the Price of Farm Products

FARM FINANCE DAY

10 a. m. Factors Influencing the Purchase of Feeds—F. B. Morrison, College of Agriculture.

11 a. m. Agricultural Credit and the Farmers' Market—Hon. A. S. Lever, chairman Federation Farm Loan Board.

1:30 p. m. Wool Marketing Conference—Cost of Production and Market Price—B. H. Hibbard, College of Agriculture; Committee Report—George McKerrow, chairman.

8 p. m. Honorary Recognition of Eminent Persons Who Have Rendered Distinctive Service to Agriculture.

"Some system whereby our state banks, supplemented with co-operative banking, might join in producing credit for the essential industries of the state—and such industries, of course include the farming industry and its allied industries—is entirely feasible to obtain credit."

This was the statement of Gov. John J. Blaine in speaking before the marketing conference Thursday. He said that the two essential elements affecting market prices were the speculative element and credit.

"The speculative element is something that can be restrained and prohibited by state and federal governments," said Gov. Blaine. "Boards of trade and brokerage concerns are instruments employed in speculation. Concerning the main articles of human consumption, I think experience has taught that those two agencies are responsible for the long and tortuous road from the farm to the table. The speculative element has wrought havoc to the consumer and the producer alike. The sugar situation that existed last year was almost entirely due to

PLOETZ ASKS FOR SHOWDOWN

Says it is Time for the Legislature to Get Down to Business

Farmer members are started a move to club the legislature into activity. Assemblyman F. W. Ploetz, Waushara county, Thursday served notice on the house that he will object to the introduction of any bills into the house after Feb. 15. That is the date that is fixed by the legislature as the limit when bills may be offered from the floor.

"What is the matter around here?" asked Assemblyman T. W. Bertingale, Chippewa county. "Why don't we get more busy with the work of the session? I would like to hear from the chief clerk."

Chief Clerk Shaffer said that the delay was due to the fact that members had not brought in their bills. The bills as soon as offered are being referred to committees, but the assembly can do nothing without bills before it and the members have not offered many measures.

With this explanation the assembly adjourned until Friday. The temper of the house is that there is going to be a show down. As soon as all of the bills are in the farmer members are going to demand daily sessions all week until the legislation has been cleared away. It is announced that the finance committee is ahead of last year's record.

Kill Pessimist, is War Cry of Bishop

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—"If you find a pessimist anywhere outside this hall kill him for me," Bishop James Atkins of Nashville said here today at a conference of the Educational Commission, Methodist Episcopal church South. "A pessimist is worse than a Hun" he continued. "Hard times is the cry of a coward."

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 27 at 4 p. m. and the lowest was 16 at 6 a. m. Precipitation was .06 and the sun sets at 5:13.

A snow storm crossing the lake regions Wednesday night was followed by colder weather from the lower Missouri to Manitoba. Another low is crossing the plains accompanied by rising temperature and snow. Rain continues falling on the north Pacific slope.

VILLARD HERE; TALKS OF WAR

Says There Can be No War to End War; Legislature to Attend

LEGISLATURE TO ATTEND.
About 40 members of the legislature will attend the Villard address in a body at the high school tonight. The members will meet in the assembly at 7 o'clock and will go to the high school about 7:30.

Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation, who will speak on the press at the high school auditorium tonight, arrived in the city this noon. He will be entertained this afternoon by a number of local liberals and university people.

Mr. Villard will be introduced this evening by William T. Evjue, editor of The Capital Times.

Discussing conditions growing out of the war, Mr. Villard today said:

"The recent war has shown the utter folly of trying to shoot morality into people. There can be no war to end war. The correctness of the complete pacifist position has been demonstrated beyond question by the collapse in Europe and reaction in America.

"The women of the peace society are taking the only correct stand when they demand complete disarmament, but in taking this stand they must realize that they are facing grave dangers when the war spirit is once more whipped up. But if they really want peace, they can take no other course. The only genuine pacifist is the one who goes all the way."

Proposal to Cut Arms May Split Jap Party

TOKIO—Proposals that Japan agree with other world powers to restrict armaments, which were recently submitted to the Kensei Kai, or opposition party, by Yukio Ozaki, have been referred to a special committee. It is declared by newspapers, the proposals threaten to split the party. It is pointed out by the Kokumin Shimbun, that Japan's financial position will not permit her successfully to compete with the U. S. and England. The pending budget sets aside 32 per cent of its total amount to naval expenditures while 18 per cent would be appropriated to the army, the newspaper declares.

PLACES ON STATE AFFAIR BOARD NAMED

Dwight T. Parker, A. C. Dick and John H. Kaiser Are Named

SELECTED BY BLAINE

Appointments Must be Approved by Senate; Well Known Leaders

Three appointments on the state board of public affairs were announced by Gov. John J. Blaine on Thursday. They were:

Dwight T. Parker, Fennimore.
A. C. Dick, Milwaukee.
John H. Kaiser, Port Washington.

Mr. Parker was born at Boscobel and for many years has operated a farm at Fennimore, Grant county. He is president of the Fennimore State bank and for several years was a regent of the university. Mr. Dick was born in Milwaukee in 1866. He is a man of large business experience and for many years has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business in Milwaukee. Mr. Kaiser, Port Washington, was elected mayor of his city in 1914, re-elected mayor in 1916 and was chosen as a member of the commission form, when that city adopted the new style of government. He was president of the League of Municipalities in 1920. The tenure of office of these three appointees synchronizes with that of the governor.

These appointees must be approved by the senate and their nominations were sent to that body this morning. It will probably be 10 days before they are acted upon. The other members of the board are named by law. The other members are: the governor, John J. Blaine; secretary of state, Elmer S. Hall, Green Bay; president pro-tempore of the senate, Timothy Burke; Speaker Riley S. Young of the assembly, and Chairman Ray J. Nye, Superior, head of the senate finance committee, and Assemblyman George S Oakes, head of the assembly finance. The newly organized board will meet as soon as the appointments are confirmed. J. B. Borden is the acting secretary of the board.

PILOT OF MAIL PLANE KILLED

Minneapolis-Chicago Flier Crashes to Ground Near Mill City

(By the Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.— K. M. Stewart, Chicago, pilot in the Minneapolis-Chicago air mail service, was instantly killed today when the plane he was piloting fell three miles south of Mendota, near here, according to information given the air mail service in Minneapolis today by A. H. Shield, a farmer in Dakota county. George V. Samson, of Minneapolis, mechanician, was injured.

Sell Farm Products On Credit Says Hibbard

YANKTON, S. D.—Dr. B. H. Hibbard, agricultural economy expert of the University of Wisconsin, told delegates attending the South Dakota corn and grain growers Association in annual meeting here today, that "prices of farm products are down because our buyers are bankrupt and the only remedy is to sell to them on credit, whether their credit is good or not."

Unemployed March to King Demanding Work

COPENHAGEN — A procession of the unemployed, estimated to number 48,000, carrying flags, left the city hall square here at 1 o'clock this afternoon marching toward the parliament buildings and the King's palace demanding work.

TRUTH UNWELCOME SO RABBI RESIGNS AFTER 21 YEARS

Rabbi Rypins Refuses to Write Sermons to Dictates of Congregation

ST. PAUL—Rabbi Isaac L. Rypins of the Temple of Mount Zion, in his farewell sermon here declared he was leaving the ministry because he was not allowed to speak his honest convictions. He will end 21 years' service as rabbi in St. Paul.

"A man had better be a bootblack and honest than a rabbi who writes his sermons according to the dictates of his congregation," he said.

Rabbi Rypins told of spending 21 years in study preparatory to becoming a rabbi. "I thought that I could go forth and preach the truth as did the prophets of old," he said. "I have learned otherwise now."

WOULD SAVE THOUSANDS TO TOBACCO MEN

Senator Bennett Will Introduce Bill to Make Buyers Respect Contracts

By FRED L. HOLMES

Declaring that hundreds of Wisconsin tobacco farmers are annually fleeced out of thousands of dollars, notwithstanding the provisions of the tobacco law which requires the buyer to pay the price he agrees to and to check this evil it is proposed in a bill to be offered in the upper house within a few days by Senator J Henry Bennett, Viroqua.

One of the principal crops of several counties in Wisconsin is tobacco. For years Wisconsin tobacco farmers have been subjected to a price hazard. Buyers would go into the field, look over the growing crop and sign a contract at a high rate per pound. If later in the season it was found that the price of tobacco had gone down the buyer refused to take the crops at the price agreed, claiming that the crop was not in a sound packing condition. If he failed to establish this point he raised upon a second provision of the present law which provides that all damaged tobacco be excluded.

"Tobacco farmers of Wisconsin have too long been fleeced by some buyers," said Sen. Bennett today. "In my own vicinity there are scores of farmers who have been promised under a contract a good price for their tobacco—from 35 to 45 cents a pound. Upon making deliveries during the past week they have been told that all they would receive was 15 cents. There isn't any reason why tobacco buyers should not be compelled to live up to their contract as well as other people. For that reason I will introduce a bill in the legislature providing that all tobacco purchased in the field shall be under a standard tobacco contract somewhat similar to a standard fire insurance policy. Then under this contract if any dispute arises regarding the sound packing condition of tobacco or to the amount of damaged tobacco it must be referred to a board of arbitration composed of one man representing the buyer, one man representing the seller and a third man to be selected from the immediate vicinity by these two men, the third man to have a knowledge of tobacco growing selling conditions.

"I have taken this matter up with many people who are interested in the sale of tobacco and they believe that if a law can be passed which will provide for a standard form of tobacco selling contract which contract shall in turn provide for compulsory arbitration of all controversies arising with buyer and seller with regard to percentage of damaged tobacco or its quality that the present unsatisfactory condition will be terminated. Such a law will not work disadvantageously to the legitimate resident dealer but will curb the non-resident dealers who come into the field merely to obtain options on tobacco and gamble with this product."

LABOR BOARD TO RECEIVE PLEA TODAY

Brotherhood Leaders Oppose Wage Cut at Chicago Hearing

SEE DECISION FRIDAY

Jewell Charges Conspiracy to Crush Railroad Labor Bodies

BULLETIN.
(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—Railroad employes' representatives who were to have appeared with a rebuttal to the roads' request for immediate abrogation of the national agreements, today postponed their statement, asking more time for preparation. The board allowed them until next Monday.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Argument against abrogation of the national wage agreements between the railroads and their employes, already laid before Pres. Wilson, and members of congress by Brotherhood leaders, were presented today to the labor board.

Since the request of W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania lines, for relief from these agreements was laid before the board Monday, representatives of the employees have been preparing their rebuttal, which B. M. Jewell president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, was to present.

Members of the board indicated a decision may be reached in executive session Friday. Mr. Atterbury declared the railroads' need for economies he said could be put into effect, was so urgent that many roads faced bankruptcy and there was not time to confer with employes on the abrogation of the agreements.

"We are convinced" said a telegram to Pres. Wilson, signed by Mr. Jewell and six other leaders, "that he (Mr. Atterbury) wishes to take advantage of the temporary unemployment and the unfortunate economic condition of the railroad workers, which the railroads themselves have intensified, to crush our labor organizations."

"We shall show that there is no economic justification for wage reductions and that a reduction in the general cost of living is not dependent on a reduction in our wages and that of other wage earners.

"There is no doubt that the temporary requirements of the railroads could be financed by the railroad bankers if they were as much interested in the maintenance of railroad credit as some of them evidently are in crushing labor organizations and reducing wages."

Milwaukee Girl of 7 Will Be Deported

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Lillian Kempton, 7, who was smuggled into the U. S. with her father, a fugitive from justice, from Windsor, Ont., Nov. 15, 1919, has been taken by immigration authorities and will be deported, C. H. Paul, immigration inspector, reported today. George Kempton, the father, is alleged to have brought the girl to Milwaukee.

Owners of $135,000 Stolen Bonds Sought

CHICAGO—Efforts are being made today to locate in Chicago the holders of liberty bonds valued at $135,000, declared by federal authorities to be part of $466,000 worth of bonds stolen from two bank messengers in Brooklyn last November. The bonds are in innocent hands, they said. New York police traced $235,000 worth of the bonds to C. F. Childs and company, Chicago brokers, when the firm sent $100,000 worth to their New York office.

Committee Named To Look Into the Lawrence Case

A committee consisting of Norton J. Williams, chairman, J. R. Caldwell and W. H. Sommers was appointed by the county board at a secret session Wednesday night to confer with District Attorney Lewis on the advisability of investigating the alleged Lawrence "murder mystery."

If the committee, which will work with Mr. Lewis should decide that there are grounds for an investigation and the board accepts its report funds will probably be appropriated for this purpose. If not, the investigation will be dropped.

The appointment of this committee came after Mr. Lewis and former District Attorney Heilman had told the board of the developments in the Lawrence case. Members of the county board refused to give any information with regard to the decisions or the meetings of the new committee. No roll call was taken on the vote for the appointment of the committee it was stated by the board members this morning.

BIRGE OUTLINES U. W. BUDGET

Declares Third of Expense Went to State at Large

SUPERIOR, Wis.—"Many people think that the state university does little except teach students at Madison. On the contrary, nearly one-third of its gross operating expenses last year went into work for the state at large—university extension, agricultural extension and experiment, county agricultural agents, etc. Nearly $1,000,000 was spent for operations of this kind in 1919-20. A little more than one-half of this sum came from the state."

So declared Pres. E. A. Birge, of the University of Wisconsin, in an address on "The Financial Problem of he University," before the Kiwanis club of Superior today.

"The financial problems of the university come from two sources—the rise of costs due to the war and the rise in the number of students. If the university did nothing but teach, such a rise would mean more than doubling its cost of operation. But this has not happened since the quantity of work done in extension and in agricultural representatives, etc., has not increased as has the number of students. The university therefore asked the special session of the legislature last May to add to its income of ⅜ mill the equivalent of 2-8 mill—an increase of 66 per cent. This amount, which was granted by the special session, is the sum which comes again before the regular session this winter.

President Birge said the appropriations of the state to the university have formed a diminishing part of its income during recent years and have remained almost stationary, while the public cost of all other parts of the educational system has risen greatly.

"As to building needs," said Dr. Birge, "the university is in the same situation as are the cities of the state; only it is worse off that they are. Its population has risen about 50 per cent and building has been almost stopped for six years instead of three. All of the buildings asked are additions to existing buildings to take care of courses now being taught.

"The university had no adjustment of its income to meet post-war conditions before the special session of last May. At that time the legislature fairly met the general situation so far as appropriations for operation are concerned, but the provisions for raising the sums appropriate failed to meet executive approval. It remains for the present legislature to complete this adjustment."

A. T. Van Scoy Dies in Milwaukee Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis.— A. T. Van Scoy, a prominent official of the Milwaukee Branch of the International Harvester Co. and Reputed to be wealthy, died suddenly today. He formerly was president of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce and was prominent among the war workers during the world conflict.

ASK WILSON FOR WORLD WIDE PARLEY

House Foreign Affairs Body Favors Disarmament Conference

ACT IN PACKING BILL

Committee Reports Out Substitute Plan for Senate Measure

BULLETIN
(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — President Wilson acting on the recently communicated request of President-elect Harding today issued a proclamation calling a special session of the senate to convene March 4.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — A resolution authorizing the president to invite the nations of the world to send delegates to a conference "to provide for disarmament" was reported favorably today by the House foreign affairs committee. The measure was sponsored by Rep. Brooks, Rep'n Ills.

Under the resolution the proposed conference would be held in Washington, but the calling of it would be left to the discretion of the president.

This is the first definite action taken by any congressional committee looking to a conference for general disarmament. The senate foreign relations committees has reported out a resolution by Sen. Borah proposing negotiations between the United States, Great Britain and Japan looking to a reduction of naval building in the future.

Act on Packing Bill

Favorable report was ordered today by the house agriculture committee on a substitute plan for the senate bill for federal regulation of the meat industry. Under the substitute, control of meat packers would be vested in the department of agriculture and stockyards be placed under the interstate commerce commission.

The Fordney emergency tariff bill, surviving a day of jockeying yesterday, still was lingering before the senate today, although chances of the measure ever coming to a final vote had been reduced to uncertainty by the overwhelming defeat of the cloture resolution which reopened the gates for another flood of oratory.

Petition for Probate is Filed Today at Oshkosh

(By the Associated Press)

OSHKOSH, Wis.—The late James C. Kerwin, justice of the supreme court, who died at Madison last Friday and was buried at Neenah Monday, left considerable property. The petition for probate of the estate fixes the probable value of the personal property at $200,000 and states that there is real estate from which a revenue of $200 a year is realized. The widow, Mrs. Helen E. Kerwin, asks for the appointment as administratrix. Justice Kerwin left no will and his heirs at law are the widow and four daughters, the latter being Mrs. Jessie K. Clark, Miss Alice M. Kerwin, Mrs. Grace Sensenbrenner and Miss Doris Kerwin, all of Neenah.

Hear Mr. Villard

Editor of The Nation Will Discuss the Press at Meeting at High School Tomorrow

TOMORROW evening at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation and former publisher of the New York Evening Post, will speak on "The Press, Its Dangers and Weaknesses."

Mr. Villard has attained to national eminence in the last few years as a liberal who stood out against the hysteria of war and fought valiantly for the preservation of our civil liberties. Mr. Villard is opposed to war,—he thinks that nothing is ever settled by violence. That was not a popular position to take,—particularly at a time when "Americanism" and "good citizenship" demanded that men must be FOR WAR in order to maintain "respectability" and social status.

Mr. Villard even challenged the Wilson administration on that issue and one issue of The Nation was denied access to the mails. He has been unsparing in his criticisms of the hypocricies of the Wilson administration and has steadily fought that type of democracy fostered by Burleson and Palmer.

No one is better qualified to give the American people a cross section of the American press than is Mr. Villard. As the publisher of a daily newspaper in a great metropolitan city Mr. Villard had ample opportunity to get that intimate contact that reveals those undercurrents in our modern business life that dominate the editorial rooms. Mr. Villard has been "through the mill."

Every person who believes that in a redemption of the press in this country lies one of the great hopes for the preservation of democracy should hear Mr. Villard's story tomorrow night.

BUT CHARLIE WEPT

TOTAL net earnings of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation for the last year amount to $37,331,538, according to the annual report of that company. Although this figure almost coincides with last year's net earnings of $37,441,218, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation found it necessary a few weeks ago to establish wage cuts of from 12 to 25 per cent.

Just what such wage reductions involve for the workers can be inferred from the wage scales prevailing at Bethlehem during the middle of last summer before any cuts had been made. Common labor received from 40 to 43 cents an hour; machinists received from 55 to 60 cents an hour; skilled workers, such as electrical crane men received about 80 cents an hour. The Bethlehem Steel Corporation is notorious among steel workers as paying the lowest wages of any of the large steel companies.

And Charlie Schwab wept.

AN APOLOGY

WE desire to call the attention of our readers to a letter appearing in today's Voice of the People from Dr. L. P. Gaillardet of Black River Falls.

The Capital Times recently carried a story to the effect that Dr. Gaillardet was arrested for a violation of the Volstead law. This story came through the regular news channels from La Crosse where Judge Landis was presiding.

Later Dr. Gaillardet was acquitted. For some reason nothing was sent out from La Crosse concerning Dr. Gaillardet's acquittal.

We regret that the news of Dr. Daillardet's arrest was printed while nothing appeared concerning his vindication. That is a gross injustice for which we offer our sincere apologies to Dr. Gaillardet.

OUR DUMB FRIENDS

THE county board is being asked for $600 for the support of the local humane society.

The Capital Times would like to say a word for those of our dumb, but faithful friends who have no voice. This small amount of money spent to insure those uncomplaining creatures who help to carry our daily load should be quickly made.

It is a worthy appropriation.

THE RECALL IN OSHKOSH

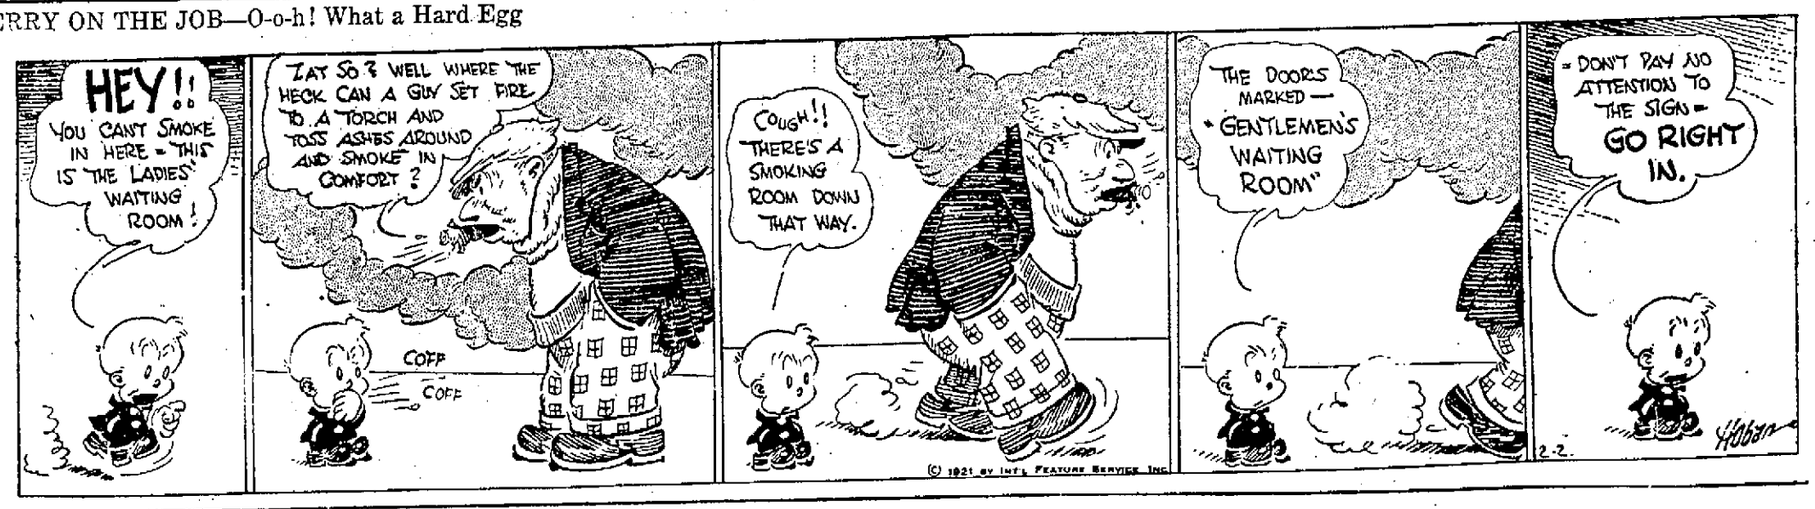

The local campaign preceding the special election for mayor of Oshkosh is drawing to a close and next Tuesday the voters will have an opportunity to record their recision. This election was called, as everyone knows, as the result of the filing of a petition signed by about 2,400 voters demanding the recall of Mayor McHenry. To oppose the latter in the special election brought about in this manner, Major W. A. Marden was induced to become a candidate for the office, and it is between these two men that the voters must make their choice.

The real issue in this contest, it frankly may be admitted, has little to do with the public statements and arguments that have been made by the leaders of the opposing sides. Although the mayor is charged with neglect of official duties and the infraction of various minor rules and regulations as applied to his office, the origin of the recall movement was dissatisfaction over certain things connected with his personal conduct and personal example. He himself, in public utterances, has admitted he has made mistakes that merit criticism, but he contends that he faithfully and honestly has discharged the duties of his office, thereby making a record that entitles him to serve out the remainder of his term, which still has two years to run.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

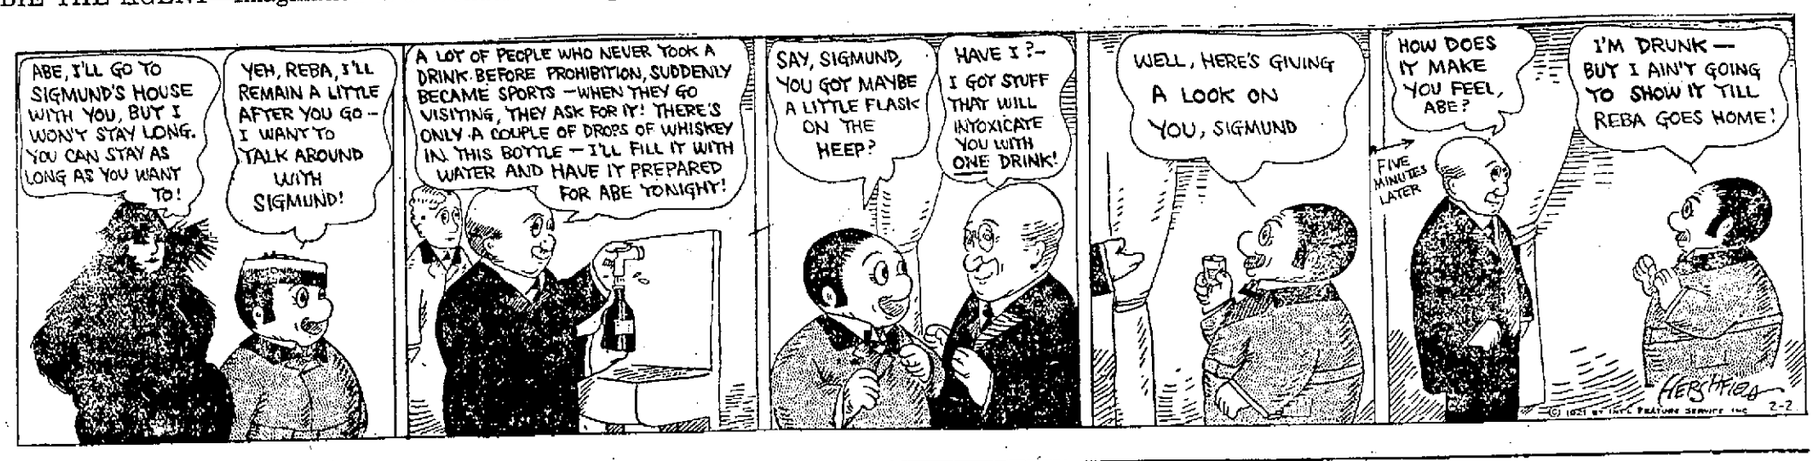

The world is in such turmoil that some people seem to feel that the war with its great sacrifices was fought in vain. Yet out of such periods of unsettlement, great gains have frequently come in the past.

The great problem in the industrial world, is to modify the radical views entertained by extremists of both capital and labor, and get both elements to realize that their interests are identical.—Sheboygan Press.

A JUST PROTEST

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

In the edition of The Capital Times of January 3, in the most conspicuous place of its first page you published the following item:

"DOCTOR CHARGED WITH LIQUOR CONSPIRACY

"Dr. L. P. Gailiardt of Black River Falls was arrested Tuesday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Joseph Gantz charged with conspiring to violate the national prohibition amendment. Herman Rush of Arcadia was arrested charged with operating a still. Both men were released on $1,000 bail for appearance in U. S. district court at La Crosse."

Being a great friend and supporter of The Capital Times I would not take exception to the publication in your columns of such a sensational news were it not for the fact that the name of the guilty party, J. Kidder, with whom I was accused of having conspired, was very carefully kept out of The Capital Times column. J. Kidder, being a newspaper man, had to be protected. I do not find any fault with that. But don't you think that an old friend of your paper and a reputable physician to whom such accusation if proven true, would have spelled ruin, would have also deserved a little protection from a friendly newspaper. I would not have resented that partial and unfair treatment by The Capital Times if your reporter had not linked my name with that of a certain Herman Rush who was arrested at Arcadia for running a still. In fact, I would care very little for the injustice done me undoubtedly, by your reporter for, I can not believe you are responsible for it but now, that the guilty party in this unfortunate affair has been convicted and that I have been declared innocent and acquitted by the jury in open court. If that reporter had the American fair play and enough sense of justice to publish that verdict on the first page of The Capital Times as he did the accusation.

This morning I have read your report of the last session of Judge Landis court at La Crosse at which I was found not guilty and not the least mention of my verdict made in your column.

Now, Mr. Evjue, is this justice? Is this fair play? Is it even honesty? I will appeal to your sense of justice and to your honor and will ask you to repair as much as it can be repaired, that flagrant injustice done to me by your reporter. You can do so by taking your best pen and write in first page of The Capital Times in conspicuous type the truth about this unfortunate affair in which I have been made the victim of the real conspirators.

The truth can be told in very few words. I was accused to have conspired with, J. Kidder, to violate the prohibition law by issuing prescriptions for liquor unlawfully. It has been proven to the satisfaction of the court and the jury that 32 prescriptions had been written by J. Kidder from a prescription book which he had swindled from my travelling bag in my room at the Stoddard hotel at La Crosse and that said prescriptions had been distributed among his friends in La Crosse with whom the said J. Kidder has conspired if conspiracy there were. The verdict was as follows:

"We, the jury in this case, find J. Kidder guilty as charged in the indictment, but find Dr. L. P. Gaillardet innocent of the accusation contained in the same indictment."

Now, Mr. Evjue, for your edification, let me quote to you the very significent remarks made to the jury by Judge Landis after the verdict had been rendered: "Gentlemen of the jury, let me thank you very sincerely for the very commendable manner in which you have discharged your duty in this case. You have proven that you had a thorough understanding of the important duties to the faithful discharge to which you were sworn, and that you have performed that duty in a manner for which I cannot praise you too highly. Let me tell you, gentlemen, that the verdict which you have rendered in this case is a righteous one and convince me once more that our system of jury trials is a wholesome one as your verdict this evening so eloquently proves it."

Hoping that justice is done to me by The Capital Times in this matter I remain,

L. P. GAILLARDET.

FOR DOG LICENSE LAW

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

We noticed in your paper that our assemblyman Mr. Olson of Green county is trying to introduce a bill to repeal the dog tax and leave it optional to each county whether or not they want a tax on dogs. Now we voters do not think that this bill should be repealed. In the first place we have triad in the counties cities and villages to license dogs and it always was a failure, but last year, all of them who owned dogs had to pay the dog tax without grumbling, and we think that every farmer who owns a dog which is valuable is willing to pay his $3.00, and those who own dogs in cities and villages ought to pay the tax because a dog in a village or city is more of a nuisance and does more damage by biting children and destroying property in nice lawns and gardens than they are worth. You will find many homes in cities and villages where they keep from 1 to 4 dogs and have no feed for them, an dare too poor to buy feed; consequently the dogs must find their living amongst their neighbors and cause much damage.

We know that if Mr. Olson would get the opinion of the people of our county, 5 to 1 would instruct him to see that the dog tax laws would not be repealed.

At The Theaters

At the Grand—Wesley Barry is by far the best all round boy on the screen. He is the kind of a boy the teacher would take one look at and count on him to be the center of deviltry throughout the term. He has the freckles, and the perpetual motion, and the facial expression that goes so quickly from mischief to nonchalant innocence—everything that goes to make a "regular feller." In "Dinty," the Marshall Neilan picture now showing at the Grand, he has a role which gives him every chance. As a ragged newsboy he makes pals with a young Chink and a little colored boy. An elaborate story of the Chinese underworld serves to give the young hero his big chance to graduate from the streets into a respectable home and a bright future.

At the Strand—Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount Artcraft production, "Why Change Your Wife?" will be shown at the Strand theater for four days, starting today. It is described as a striking drama of married life lavishly presented. Gloria Swanson and Thomas Meighan are the featured players. The story is by William DeMille. The picture has been produced with all the beauty of setting, mastery of screen technique, and admirable attention to detail that was characteristic of Cecil B. DeMille in "Male and Female," and his other cinema classics. A comedy cartoon will also be shown.

Coming to the Orpheum—"Varieties of 1921" the distinctly different musical revue, comes to the Orpheum tomorrow night, for the week end engagement. The production is exquisite but not obtrusive. Elegance rather than lavishness are its characteristics. Ballard MacDonald is responsible for the book and lyrics and Harry Carroll and Harry Richman for the music, and the staging was done by Leon Errol. This trio is an absolute guarantee of the merit of the material in hand. The cast is large and headed by Harry Richman and Jack Waldron, who are starred in the piece. In addition to the musical revue "Varieties of 1921," the bill for the last half of the week will include Elsie Pilcer and Dudley Douglas in smart songs, dances, sayings and gowns. Frank DeVoe, remembered as Fritzi Sheff's leading man, and Harry Hosford, former pianist for Annette Kellerman, will present excerpts from musical comedies. The Misses Doyle and Elaine, will offer a "Study in Tan" and Samaroff and Sonia, the Russian peasants, present "A Sunny Afternoon in Their Native Land." Kinogram pictures complete the program.

At the Orpheum—Leo Rose and Katheryn Moon, assisted by Joss Sutton, at the piano, present one of the prettiest dancing acts seen here this season, while Billy Beard, late star of La. G. Feilds Minstrels, amuses with stories and songs. The playlet, "Any Home," contains bright lines ond comical situations, and Adler and Dunbar, Madison favorites, help put the program over. Otto and Sheridan, in songs, and Latoy and Vesta, offering something different for an opening act, complete the bill together with the Kinogram and Topics of the Day pictures.

TEACHER FUND REPORTED IN BAD SHAPE

Startling Disclosures Are Made On Retirement Fund in the State

KUCKUK HEADS BODY

Says That Fund Can Only Pay 23 Cents on Dollar of Promised Benefits

By FRED L. HOLMES

Startling disclosures as to the real financial condition of the Teachers' Retirement Fund of Wisconsin were made public Thursday by the special legislative committee which has been investigating the subject for the past two years. The fund is in such condition that unless some steps are taken at this session of the legislature to amend the law and place the fund on a solvent basis, it will soon be impossible to pay the annuities promised under the law.

To pay the teachers in Wisconsin who are at present contributing to the fund the benefits promised to them when they retire the sum of $13,381,761 with interest from now on will be needed.

To effect this obligation, the resources of the fund consist of assets on hand $685,000, contributions of teachers during the next thirty-six years $1,261,013, together with all of the State appropriations for the next thirty-six years which is equivalent to $1,095,292, making a total of $3,041,409.

Stated in other terms, if all present members of the Retirement Fund are treated equitably, the fund can pay only twenty-three cents on each dollar. To pay even this proportion to the present teachers will use up all of their own contributions, all of the accumulated assets, and all of the state appropriation for the next thirty-six years, so that new teachers would receive no assistance from the state during that period.

Under the law, the State does not guarantee the obligation of the fund in any way; on the contrary, the law requires that the Board of Trustees of the Retirement Fund ratably reduce the annuities whenever, in the judgment of the Board, the condition of the Fund shall require such reduction. The examination of the condition of the Fund made by the legislative committee shows that a pro rata reduction to twenty-three cents on the dollar will be necessary, unless the law is changed and additional resources provided.

"The Teachers of Wisconsin and the Legislature must face an acute condition," said Senator Antone Kuckuk, chairman of the legislative committee. "The figures completed by the committee show that the teachers and the legislature are facing a reality. If teachers in the future are to receive any benefit under this law immediate changes must be made increasing the teachers contributions and the State's contributions. If no change is made and the Fund continues to operate as it has in the past, it will require all the present assets of the Fund, all of the contributions of the fourteen thousand present members as long as they continue in service and all of the appropriations by the State until the teachers now in service have retired, to pay the annuities to the 865 teachers who are now on the retired list and to the 444 who are now eligible to retire. This means that the other fourteen thousand teachers in the state must continue to make contributions to the Fund during the remainder of their teaching service with little hope of ever receiving a dollar of benefit for themselves.

Judge Zimmerman Suggests Plan For Distributing Taxes

Shows How Man With Small Home Pays More Than Man With $100,000 in Wealth; Outlines Suggestions for Legislature

By A. G. ZIMMERMAN
(Judge of Dane County Court)

At the present time the governor and the legislature are endeavoring to devise means of over-hauling our taxation system to the end that the methods may be more just and that the burdens may be less onerous.

That the relative results of our present property tax on realty and specific personalty on the one hand and of our income tax on the other are anomolous and unjust, must be conceded.

To illustrate this, specific examples of the workings of the present tax rates in this city may be cited.

Most heads of families who manage to accumulate but a few thousand dollars put this money in a home. On this home, say at an average assessed valuation here of $5,000, the rate being 2¼, the tax to be paid is $112.50, with no exemption.

Now, a wealthier man, say with twenty-five times as much property, of $125,000, invested in 6 per cent mortgages and like securities, instead of realty, allowing for exemption for himself and wife, pays a tax on $7,500 income of but $108, or $4.50 less than the $5,000 homestead man.

If the $125,000 man, or his father before him, has invested the money in bank and corporation stock, he doesn't pay any tax at all. Of course the bank or corporation does but he is neither the bank nor corportion, and his income is at least as much as that of the mortgage security man who pays income taxes though the realty covered by his mortgages pays a large tax.

Likewise, the man with a wife, who has as much as $20,000 in securities, instead of realty, pays no tax at all, with his exemption taken out.

And again, if the $125,000 man invests his money in realty he pays a realty tax of $2,812.50, in addition to an income tax on his net income from the realty.

It would seem that anybody can see the gross inequality and injustice of requiring a man worth say up to $125,000, with an income say up to $7,500, to pay more than twenty-five times as much tax if he happens to invest it in realty rather than in securities: or to require a laboring man or salary man with only a $5,000 home, to pay as much or more tax than the well-to-do security man worth $125,000.

(In the foregoing figures, surtaxes, being more or less special and fugitive, are not considered. Nor is the federal tax, yet the $7,500 income man who invests in realty would still pay not only his state income tax but many times this amount as realty tax, over and above the security man even after including payment of the federal tax.)

As to remedies for this situation, it may be said that it is easier to criticise suggested remedies than to suggest adequate ones.

One suggestion put forth is to provide a realty exemption of from $3,000 to $5,000 free from taxation. While this looks plausible, yet there are apparently at least two objections thereto: one, that this would wholly exempt a very large number of property owners from any taxation, and that all property owners ought to pay some tax in order to keep a proper and desirable interest in public affairs; second, that such an exemption would be liable to put a most burdensome tax on the balance of taxable realty to make up the tax deficiency, the limit being practically taken off.

Another suggestion is to increase the income tax exemption to $1,000 for unmarried and $2,000 for married men. One objection suggested to this is like the foregoing exemption, that it is not conducive to good citizenship to exempt such a very large proporation of fair income from paying any taxes; and another, is that this exemption is liable to cut both ways and prove not to be wholly eleemosynary.

For instance, by this additional exemption, the laboring or salary man, with a wife, on an income of $1,500 would save but $3.00 and with a $2,000 income he would save but $8.00, while the wealthier $7,500 income man would save $21.50 because the exemption in effect would be lopped off from the high rate tax end, and the bigger the income the larger the proportionate exemption.

Another remedy suggested is to greatly increase the higher income or surtax on the theory that if the money is raised this way then the realty tax will be lessened by such increase. However that may be in theory, in practice is hasn't done anything of the kind. It was said this would happen when the income tax was first proposed. But it didn't, and the realty tax has remained as high, and we always get to the LIMIT.

And right there, on the question of THE LIMIT, would seem to be the rub of the whole realty tax proposition to be considered, if we are ever to keep it within reasonable bounds.

Without unduly prolonging this discussion, or claiming infallibility, or even any expert knowledge on the subject, the following feasible remedies, on present information, may be suggested for consideration:

First. Limit the amount of tax to be assessed against any realty and specific personalty to 20 mills, or more equitably to 15 mills.

Second. Limit the amount of tax that may be assessed on the first $5,000 of the assessed value of homesteads, to one-half the total realty tax rate limit, to 10 mills or 7½ mills. (If there were any question of constitutionality, and there probably is not, then include the first $5,000 assessment of all realty in this exemption).

Third. Provide for sufficient graduated income and corporation tax to raise money enough for all ordinary governmental expense, including interest on indebtedness and 5 per cent payment on the principal,—covering state, county, city, village, town, and school district requirements, — which with one-half of the allowable tax rate limit on realty and specific personalty, assessed locally, will take care of all such ordinary governmental expenses.

This would leave to the local units, as a workable and elastic overplus, the other one-half of allowable realty tax for extraordinary expenses, improvements—and extravagances.

Under such, or a similar proposed system, some of the inequality and injustice would be removed, and at the same time home owning and realty investment would be encouraged rather than penalized.

Another remedial method of taxation, more ideal, more revolutionary, and albeit more equitable,—probably too revolutionary and too equitable to be even considered at the present time,—would be to tax all property, tangible and intangible, on a uniform income-tax basis; i. e., on the assessment of realty, figure 6 per cent—the legal value of holding or withholding property—and tax this sum on an income-tax basis, adding thereto any additional income derived from income-bearing realty. This would seem to be more nearly approaching that uniformity which our constitution makers evidently desired.

BLAINE SPEAKS AT FARM MEET

speculation. The sugar beet producers were paid for the beets on the basis of less than 11 cents a pound, while sugar was placed on the table all the way from 25 to 36 cents a pound. This situation obtains with respect to meat products, wool, cotton, wheat, and many other articles which are used as the necessities of life.

"These speculative agencies perform no useful service, and they are the parasites of trade.

"We keep up a circle of rising and falling prices, under-production, employment and unemployment, the result of which is detrimental to both producer and consumer, and to society at large.

"This, therefore, leads to the question of credit. If we can adjust our credit system to a basis where industries can be permitted to continue operation, and by such operation continue the employment of workmen, we can bring about a situation where the purchasing power can be maintained without great fluctuation. If a practical credit system can be devised, with the proper extension of credit during the unsettled periods, we can maintain the consuming power of the people.

"With respect to the producer, a credit system, properly devised, can be used as a means of stabilizing the prices of the farm products. In years of plenty, or under a stimulated agricultural production, a surplus may be produced. This surplus ought not to be dissipated or wasted, but should be conserved. If the surplus is unloaded upon the market, you at once bring about a falling market, which will have its reaction upon the next year's production,—very detrimental to all.

"Flooding of the market often enhances the power also of the speculators, especially when they control the storage and distribution of food products and they alone have a monopoly of storage and distribution facilities, with the result that the consumer derives no benefit. Here, again, a system of credit might be devised to conserve the surplus products, and thus protect the producer and prevent exploitation of the consumer by the speculative agencies."

Elimination of "toll takers" who profit from society without aiding in production, was stressed today as the only means of solving the country's industrial and agricultural problems, by Edward Nordman, director of the Division of Markets, speaking before the "Get-Together" marketing conference.

He said that this elimination could be brought about by establishing buying and selling marketing machinery that will reduce to the minimum the number of middlemen by governmental regulation and control of buying, selling and manufacturing monopolies, and by shifting the burden of taxation from business and labor products to natural resources.

Present industrial and agricultural conditions were pointed to by the speaker as the result, largely, of unjust distribution of wealth. He urged that farmers and workingmen unite to force the elimination of those who make a parasitical living from society.

"It would seem that nothing can be clean than the interdependence of the farmer and city producer," Mr. Nordman declared. "They constitute the great body of consumers. Full employment, full wages, prosperity of each, is necessary to a like condition. Both together constitute the great market of the country.

Most Interesting Query.

"One of the most interesting questions, therefore, to the farmer is: How can the workman obtain the full product of his labor so as to have an abundance of the means to buy from the farmer what he produces, and at a profitable price to the farmer?

"If 3,000,000 are out of work, it may mean 3,000,000 farmers cannot market their products except at a loss. But it means more that that; it means that the men out of work are competing for the jobs and displacing the men with jobs at lower wages, resulting in a lower purchasing power.

"Does not the farmer see that all this is undermining and destroying his best market? He may hire cheap 'help' next summer, but if he does, it is because 'help' is cheap in the industrial centers and men are out of work. But it also means that the market for his produce will be sluggish and prices low. Low wages do not make brisk buyers, and men out of work are a poor business asset for the farmer.

"The remedy must be involved in the question of how much each is allowed to retain for his own use of what he produces. Then there are a large number of people who are not producers of goods in the usual sense, but who are necessary to society.

A Doubtful Class.

"There are others who constitute a more doubtful class, such as salesmen of stocks, bonds, and securities, various kinds of speculators, promoters, gamblers on the markets, who produce nothing, and who take toll from society to the extent, at least, of a living.

"In the merchandising of products there are many middlemen who intervene and take more or less toll in one way or another. Again much toll is taken from the people through transportation and public utility monopolies, and perhaps these should include such quasi-public and monopolized activities as the beat packing business, the steel trust, and others.

"But above and beyond all of these as a successful toll taker is the monopolization of natural resources. The land, coal, copper, iron, lead, and oil deposits; timber waterpowers, dockage, choice business locations and so on. The mere ownership of these permits the taking of toll to the extent of thousands of millions of dollars annually, for which nothing is returned either in product or service.

"It is this unnecessary toll-taking that explains why the farmer and the city workman must each labor four days to obtain three days' product of the other. It is the exorbitant toll-taking between the producer and consumer which we can call a toll levied on production leaving the producer three-fourths or less of what he produces.

Eliminate Toll-Taker.

"The only remedy is to eliminate the toll-taker. The most fundamental and far-reaching remedy in this phase of the work will come through organization. The secret of the unfavorable position which the farmers occupy in respect to the businessmen with whom they deal is that they are not sufficiently organized.

"The second line of attack is to remove the advantages that come from the monopolization of natural resources. A tax on land and natural resources such as provided in the Nolan bill now before congress is a step in the right direction.

"This same attack can be made through the state legislature. The effective method of doing this is to remove the burden of governmental expense more and more from the products of enterprise and industry and to place this burden on privilege and monopoly. The first step would be to eliminate the taxes on personal property.

"It must be plain to anyone that when the burden of governmental expense is lifted from the products of industry, these products will be more readily obtained and at less expense to the consumer. That is, the common man's standard of living will be higher. He will live better. He will have more of the necessities and commodities of life, and he will therefore become a better customer for the products of both farm and factory."

Conference Comment

With the auditorium at Agricultural Hall still crowded to capacity on the third day of the Market Conference new records for attendance at the Wisconsin Farmers Courses has sent. Sixty three counties are represeted in the enrollment. New delegations continue to arrive by every train coming to Madison.

* * *

While not represented by the largest delegation, Dane county farmers from Sun Prairie, Deerfield, Blue Mounds, Oregon, Riley, Mount Horeb, Cambridge, Middleton, Waunakee, Verona, Windsor, De Forest, and Madison are flocking to the meeting.

* * *

Each of the general sessions has packed the auditorium to overflowing and each of the addresses has made a distinct contribution to the big question of marketing which interests and concerns producers and consumers alike. Both groups are predicting that out of these 10 days of conference there will come an understanding which will help materially in aiding Wisconsin in meeting in a constructive manner many marketing difficulties.

* * *

This was consumers day and representatives of the state government, concerned with the administration of regulations which shall establish equity between classes spoke.

* * *

One of the strongest numbers of this week's conference will be the address on Rural Credits by Honorable Ashbury Lever, chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board. During his terms in congress, Mr. Lever was credited with the enactment of more constructive agricultural legislation than any other man.

* * *

Wisconsin farmers will pay homage to one of their servants tonight. R. A. Moore, for 25 years in charge of the field crops work at the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station will be banqueted at the Presbyterian church. His experiments have made Wisconsin the leading seed grain producing state and has increased the crop yields so that Wisconsin is exceeded by none. From the efforts of Mr. Moore and coworkers, thousands of dollars have been added to the annual incomes of Wisconsin farmers.

VARIETY!

Unusual Musical Revue Promised to Patrons of Orpheum Theatre.

Something of unusual merit in the way of musical revues, "Varieties of 1921," will top the new vaudeville bill which opens at the Orpheum tonight, and continues for the balance of the week, including the three performances Sunday. The cast is a large one, headed by Harry Richman and Jack Waldron, assisted by Norma Hark, the Warde Sisters and a bevy of Broadway beauties. Harry Carroll and Harry Richman wrote the music, Ballard MacDonald the book and lyrics, and the staging was done by Leon Errol, an expert in that line. The costuming and general dress of the entire act has been accorded great praise in its appearance on the Orpheum Circuit.

The song hits are numerous, the principal being "Mister Ouija of the Keys," "Oh, Boy, What a Girl," "For You Alone," "Since Broadway Dent Dry," and the "Cuckoo Clock" there being twelve numbers in all.

Coming direct from a week's engagement at the Palace Theatre, Chicago, Elsie Pilcer and Dudley Douglas will be seen in Smart Songs, Dances, Sayings and Gowns; while Frank De Voe, remembered in former seasons as leading comedian with Fritzi Scheff, and Harry Hosford, late pianist for Annette Kellerman, will present excerpts from musical comedies. Two clever young women entertainers, Misses Doyle and Elaine, will offer "A Study in Tan," with songs, dances and comedy patter of dusky belles. Samaroff and Sonia, will appear in a novelty act "A Sunny Afternoon in Their Native Land." Kinogram pictures complete the program.

ALLAHABAD, India — Further reinforcements have been sent to the Rai Bareli district where there is a recrudescence of last weeks's rioting. Several persons have been wounded by police fire at Fyzabad.

100 YEARS OLD

"The kidneys play a most important part in causing premature old age and death—the more injurious the poisons passing through the kidneys the sooner comes decay"—so says a distinguished physician, who further advises all people who are past thirty to preserve the vitality of the kidneys and free the blood from poisonous elements, such as uric acid—to drink plenty of pure water—sweat some every day and take "An-uric" (anti-uric acid) before meals.

This "Anuric" is put up in tablet form, and can be obtained at almost any drug store. For that backache, lumbago, rheumatism, "rusty" joints, swollen feet or hands, due to uric acid in the blood, "Anuric" quickly dissolves the uric asid. It was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for trial pkg.

Mrs. Robert M'Gill, Oregon, Dies at 63

Mrs. Robert McGill, 63 years old, and a resident of Oregon for the past 34 years, died at her home Wednesday night at 11 o'clock after a three months' illness. She was born in Jefferson and had lived in Wisconsin all her life. Surviving her are her hsuband, one son, Donald, and two daughters, Miss Nellie and Miss Marie McGill, all at home, and four sisters, Mrs. Lenore Hutson of Edgerton, Mrs. Newton Wells of Whitewater, Mrs. Ella Hoffman of Rockford and Mrs. John Bowen of Lynn Haven, Fla. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Methodist church at Oregon, Rev. B. W. Saunders officiating.

Sees Little Hope for Annexation Plan

Assembly Martin M. Higgins' joint resolution seeking annexation to Wisconsin of the upper peninsula of Michigan was heard by the assembly committee on state affairs yesterday afternoon and the matter continued to next Thursday upon petition of the author, who, with Dr. Joseph Schafer, superintendent of the State Historical society, spoke before the committee. Dr. Schafer gave the history of the territory, declaring that Wisconsin at one time had clear claim to it and even now had a more valid right than Michigan.

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very time mother should watch that the important function of daily elimination is regular and normal.

Many thousands of mothers who have daughters will tell you they give only Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A teaspoonful is sufficient to relieve constipation and its commoner symptoms such as headache, bad breath, biliousness, loss of appetite and restless sleep.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, and a sixty-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. Buy a bottle today and you will quickly see why it is so popular.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

MISS M'SWINEY TO SPEAK HERE

Sister of Late Lord Mayor of Cork to Talk Here Next Tuesday

Miss Mary McSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, who died in a London prison while hunger striking, will speak in Madison Tuesday night under the auspices of the Friends of Irish Freedom, it was stated last night by Maj. George F. O'Connell, president of the organization.

No hall has yet been secured, but the committee is searching for one with a large seating capacity, and expects to announce the result of its endeavors in a few days. Miss McSwiney is known to be an excellent speaker and it is believed that a record-breaking crowd will attend.

Humane Meeting—There will be a business meeting of the board of directors of the Dane County Humane society tonight at 7:30 in the city library. It is likely a set of by-laws will be submitted for adoption.

SAFEGUARDING OF HOME AND SHOP AGAINST FIRE VITAL NEED

President of Fire Prevention Association Outlines Program to Meeting of Members Here Today

"The safeguarding of our home and shop against fire is one of the most vital questions of the day," Rudolph H. Wiben, president of the Conservation and Fire Prevention association, told high school students this afternoon.

"In the old fable fire is reckoned one of the gifts of the immortals. Prometheus is described as pilfering it from heaven that mankind might be singularly endowed. While fire is one of the most beneficial forces in nature for man's comfort and convenience, it may become one of the most baneful and destructive. Its destructiveness is a great national problem, receiving the earnest attention of state and national governments, and of many captains of large industries, civic bodies and others who recognize its significance.

"Our ravished forests became a ready prey to fire, which destroyed millions upon millions of growing timber, with the result that today we are beginning to feel the pinch. In addition we are destroying hundreds of millions in property values by fire because of the careless habits and lack of foresight. It is but in recent years that a more conservative policy has been pursued. Cities are spending millions more for the maintenance of fire fighting equipment, which would not be necessary in so great a measure had we been less greedy and more careful—giving a thought to the future.

"You, like many of your elders, no doubt, live in the belief that property loss recovered through insurance cleans the slate. This is a fallacy, as property values once destroyed by fire are an absolute loss to the nation. The individual may be reimbursed for his loss through insurance, which is only a medium to distribute the loss of an individual among the many; it is really in the nature of a tax on all of us. It is one of the overhead expenses in business. We would raise an awful howl if called upon to pay this as a direct tax, amounting to about $3 per capita, yet we complacently go on year after year paying the penalty for our carelessness. What I wish to emphasize is that the actual values so destroyed are lost to us forever. We are continually reminded through the banks to save a part of our daily earnings, a very laudable appeal, it bespeaks of thrift, but what good do we accomplish if we fail to conserve the wealth we may have already accumulated?

"You may be interested in learning that 70 per cent to 80 per cent of all fires are due to carelessness, which could have been prevented, had we learned to be more careful. Here are a few causes of fires reported in the morning's mail a few days ago: spark from chimney; defective flue; defective heating plant; cigarette dropped from second floor on awning; spark from match; in clothes closet (unknown); overheated furnace; hot coals dropping from stove; spontaneous combustion of rubbish in basement; burning trash and fencing caught fire; child throwing match in waste basket; defective wiring; overheated stove pipe; curtain blew against lighted gas jet; grease in pan on stove; oiled rag in sewing machine—combustion; lighted candles on Christmas tree; electric iron.

The inspection of the fire hazards of Madison is interesting fire chiefs as well as insurance men, business men and women of this city.

Among the fire chiefs in attendance are John Glaser of Watertown; Al. Luck of Waupun; George P. McGillan of Appleton; W. J. Power, Baraboo; H. M. Jefferies, assistant chief at Baraboo; Walter Budig, Waterloo; and Chief C. W. Heyl of Madison.

Members of the Conservation and Fire Prevention association, O. B. Ryon and D. O. Stine, addressed the Rotary club this noon. Mrs. Mary Fletcher will address the Industrial clubs at the Y. W. C. A. tonight.

The meetings will close with a public meeting in the assembly chamber of the capitol tonight at which President C. B. Chapman of the Association of Commerce will preside. The chief speaker will be Capt. J. J. Conway of Cincinnati. Gov. John J. Blaine is to deliver the address of welcome and other speakers will be O. B. Ryon, Chicago; T. Alfred Fleming, New York; George P. Hambrecht of the industrial commission; Clarence Goldsmith of Chicago; and R. H. Wieben, of Milwaukee.

Charles L. Easton, Milwaukee, and M. A. Freedy, Milwaukee, talked yesterday before the senate and assembly, giving the purport of their organization.

WOULD REVOKE AUTO LICENSES

Higgins Bill is Aimed at Violators of State Auto Laws

Violate the automobile law and lose your automobile license. That is the proposal made in a bill offered by Assemblyman Martin Higgins, Milwaukee Thursday. The measure would give the judge or justice of the peace "discretion to issue an order revoking the license." For the first offense the revocation may be for four months; for the second offense for a period of one year and for the third and subsequent offenses a period of five years.

As soon as the revocation order is issued the officer must remove the number plates from the automobile and return them with a copy of the order to the secretary of state who shall not issue a new license to the person during the period for which it has been revoked.

Bills offered in the house were:

Bigelow:—Open the bass season on June 15, instead of July 1.

Meissing:—Fur buyers must obtain a license paying a fee of $25 from the state conservation commission before they can buy furs.

Matheson:—Closed season for clams in all waters Rock county:

Matheson:—State Historical society shall be the custodian of all the records of the state council of defense.

Young:—Increasing the rate on highway bonds from five to six per cent and allowing bonds issued for highway construction one year ago and still unsold, to now be sold at less than par.

Atchison:—County board of supervisors may establish a county dental clinic.

Sachtjen:—Permitting a division of the commission of life insurance.

Downs:—Prohibiting county judge from drafting legal papers in matters or give legal advise in matters to come before him and providing for his removal through an action by the attorney general for violations.

We don't see why they call is common sense. Sense doesn't seem to be at all common these days.

DOES IT PAY TO WORRY ABOUT APPENDICITIS?

Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-i-ka, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which nothing else can dislodge. One man reports it is unbelievable the awful impurities Adler-i-ka brought out. BACK COUNTY PARK PROJECT

Plea of J. A. Hazelwood in Address to Friends of Native Landscape

A plea to the Friends of Our Native Landscape to "Get back of" the county park movement was made last night by John A. Hazelwood at a banquet of that organization at the Capitol cafe. All counties need a park system, Mr. Hazelwood declared, and places where springs are found should be turned over to the public for general use.

"The fact is," he continued, "we need not worry about improvements or money for development of this state. Let us get title back from private hands into the public at this time. A man could not furnish a more suitable and permanent monument than to leave a few acres of county park bearing his name. We observe many people putting $100, $500 and even $1,000 into granite or marble monuments, to be hidden away and seldom looked at, in a secluded cemetery. Better a thousand times to spend a few hundred dollars and get an Olson County park or whosoever's name is to be perpetuated."

John S. Donald, Madison, who presided, appointed Prof. F. A. Aust and Mrs. F. C. Sharp of Madison and H. E. Cole of Baraboo a legislative committee.

Prof. Aust spoke on Man's need of a "free landscape." Charles E. Brown, superintendent of the State Historical museum told of the archaeological survey of Wisconsin, which is nearly completed, and during which some 500 mounds had been saved besides various Indian cornfields and cemeteries.

Wisconsin has 3,000 named lakes, and many not designated; also there are over 15,000 miles of inland lakeshore, 750 miles of Wisconsin shoreline on the great lakes of Superior and Michigan and 25,000 miles of riverbanks, according to J. W. Bennett of Vernon county.

Other speakers were W. O. Hotchkiss, Miss Maud Neprud, Jens Jenson of Chicago, Mrs. H. S. Richards, H. D. Tiemann, C. P. Norgord, C. D. Harrington, Lieut. Gov. George Comings, and Frank A. Cannon.

The state division of markets is trying to promote a system of bookkeeping among the farmers of Wisconsin. That's fine. If the farmer is to succeed he must be a business man. He can't be a business man unless he keeps books and knows just what he gets for his investment of capital and labor.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

MARINETTE, Wis.—Following its own example of holding the first and clearing school in history, as it did in 1920, the Marinette County Land Clearing association will establish the first traveling land clearing school in history as the feature of its 1921 campaign. The traveling school will be mounted on a large motor truck, which will carry all the latest land clearing equipment, and a corps of instructors, headed by Secretary Larry F. Livingston. Arrangements have been made to hold one and two-day schools in 20 community centers of the county, so as to bring it within reach of all the farmers.

Prof. J. L. Gillin of the university will discuss social welfare problems in a talk before the Madison Federation of Labor, Monday evening. Officers of the federation will be elected and annual reports will be submitted.

COUNTY BOARD TURNS DOWN PLEA FOR $600 FOR HUMANE SOCIETY

Members Vote 36 to 28 to Reject Request; Charge of Extravagance Denied During Debate

ROLL CALL ON RESOLUTION TO APPROPRIATE $600 TO HUMANE SOCIETY

G. Lingard, Mt. Horeb; Vazen, Cross Plains.

NOES—36—Asleson, Dunkirk; Babcock, Albion; Ballwig, Roxbury; Barry, Fitchburg; Caldwell, Madison; Dahle, Deerfield; Dreger, Middleton; Dunlap, Sun Prairie; Dyreson, Dunn; Erickson, Medina; Farness, De Forest; Fessenfeld, Black Earth; Friederich, Springfield; Green, Middleton; Halvorson, Blooming Grove; Hegland, Perry; Heuser, Blue Mounds; Hook, Oregon; Kirch, Mazomanie; Kleinfelter, Deerfield; Kravick, Christiania; Linn, Stoughton; Lyle, Montrose; McCue, Black Earth; Nesheim, Primrose; Oehrlein, Bristol; O'Malley, Westport; Osterheld, Stoughton; Porter, Marshall; Rasmussen, Rutland; Scheuerell, Sun Prairie; Sommers, Blue Mounds; Tenney, Madison; Thinnes, Cross Plains; Toepfer, Madison; Witzko, Madison.

Following a debate between Dr. Louis B. Wolfenson, former president of the Dane County Humane Society, and Robert N. Nelson, a former director, the county board last night rejected a resolution to appropriate $600 to the society. The vote was 36 to 28.

Mr. Nelson declared that while he believed the members of the society to be unselfish and high-minded he doubted the advisibility of granting a specified sum, as it would tend to increase extravagance. He expressed the belief that the work could be done by county officers with much less expense.

The charge of extravagance was immediately challenged by Prof. Wolfenson, who spoke of a case in court which the society had won, the defendant being a client of Mr. Nelson. He said Mr. Nelson had never stated his position when he was in the society.

Mr. Nelson replied that the latter statement was untrue as he had told the board of directors last December that he was through with the society as it was 100 per cent perfect. He declared that he certainly did not approve of the aggressive policy of the organization.

Other matters taken up at the meeting were the appropriation of $100 to aid in entertaining visiting supervisors at a meeting of the Wisconsin association in Madison, February 15-17; acceptange of the report by the highway committee which asked that $14,500 be used to gravel the Sun Prairie-Columbus road; authorization of the instigation of a suit against the city of Madison for an amount due. Dane county in mothers' pensions.

Edward J. Smith was appointed county highway commissioner to succeed to Frank M. Lipke. Mr Lipke will engage in road construction at Edgerton after Feb. 15.

WERDEN LOAN BILL KILLED

Resolution to Borrow Funds Fails in Senate Today

Sen. Werden's joint resolution to amend the constitution empowering the state to borrow up to one-tenth of one percent of its valuation for the development of agricultural lands was killed in the senate on Thursday, because the amount involved, about $43,000,000 was considered too high. Werden will introduce another resolution for the same purpose by reducing the figures. His first resolution was adopted by the legislature two years ago and would be ready for submission to the people if passed at this session. Sen. Werden fears that the amount is so large that the resolution would be voted down by the people.

Sen. Burke introduced two bills, one for a complete registration of automobiles to give the state a better check on stolen property and the other to do away with state inspection of beauty parlors.

A bill by Sen. Beyer provides for the establishment of municipal milk depots upon a majority vote of common councils in cities.

The senate adopted resolutions for the printing of 1,000 copies of the Conant surtax bill and 2,000 copies of the Severson bill on the same subject to meet a state wide demand for copies of these measures.

Sen. Kleists bill to make the minimum of teachers $100 a month was reported for indefinite postponement.

Sen. Huber offered a bill to appropriate $500,000 for the erection of a state hospital for the treatment of shell shocked soldiers.

Manufacturers to Be at Tax Hearing

The two big income tax bills in this session providing for surtaxes on all income $3,000 will be given a hearing by the judiciary committee of the senate on Feb. 16. This announcement was made by Senator John Conant. Sen. Conant has offered a substitute for the Severson tax bill with rates much higher than those imposed in the Severson bill. The Severson bill would produce about $6,000,000 of revenue and it is estimated that the Conant bill would produce $16,000,000 in revenue. So that all interested parties may have a change for hearing it was decided to give a two weeks announcement of hearing. Manufacturers from all sections of the state are expected to be present.

DAWES FLAYS ARMY CRITICS

Partisan Politics Undermines Military, Says Former Supply Chief

WASHINGTON—Turning upon the house ewar investigating committees as a whole, Charles G. Dawes, former head of army supply procurement service in France, told one of them today that the value of their work had been rendered useless through injection of partisan politics.

"I resent this effort to reflect upon the entire army because some poor devil blundered in Switzerland," he shouted. "You can not put a blotch on the army. What the hell did we go in for—to steal money? It was not a republican or a democratic war. It was an American war and yet as a rule these committees try to bring in partisan politics.

"You could use your time investigating to a better advantage right here trying to save disgraceful government waste. You could save more money for the people. But as to France, you haven't got evidence to make a case if one existed, and I don't believe it does."

Rep. Flood, dem., Va., told Gen. Dawes his idea of investigation was to draw a lesson for the future; if bad administration was shown, to say so, and if there was fraud and graft, to find it and see that the guilty were punished.

"Yes," Gen. Dawes replied, "but don't let this thing go before the people as a partisan fight. Everybody wants to hear something bad about somebody else. I am not here to mak echarges that would blacken the name of a soldier, who cannot come in and be heard."

Budar Bribery Case Goes to Jury Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Arguments were begin this morning in the trial of Joseph A. Budar charged with attempting to bribe Harry H. Stroud, government agent, to abate the vigor of his investigation of the operations of the Milwaukee whiskey ring. The case was expected to go to the jury late in the afternoon. The verdict probably will not be announced until the opening of court tomorrow, it was said.

Briand Insists On Full German Payment

PARIS—France still intends to see that Germany is made to pay her debt in full, if her economic condition permits of such payment, Premier Briand informed the Chamber of Deputies today in presenting the declaration of his ministry on the reparations question. "The decisions of the supreme council," he explained, "meant the payment by Germany to the limit of her economic capacity, the principal measure toward which is the development of her exportations."

HIRST OUTLINES 1921 ROAD WORK

Buy Gravel by the Acre is Advice to Highway Experts Here

A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, outlined the road program for 1921 at the close of the administraday program of the Wisconsin highway commissioners' road school at Music hall, Thursday afternoon. Registration up to noon Thursday was 942 and it was predicted attendance would reach 1,000 before the session ends.

Buy gravel by the acre instead of by the yard, was E. R. Bean's advice to the highway builders in a talk on surveys for roa dmaterials. There is great economy in this method, he said. W. F. Cavanaugh discussed the most effective methods of snow removal, from his experience in Milwaukee county. M. W. Torkelson, bridge engineer, discussed the best means of securing adequate county highway organizations. J. T. Donaghey, maintenance engineer, spoke on purchasing right of way and lands.

Testing work of the commission was described at the opening of the afternoon session by M. O. Withey, testing engineer. He was followed by W. O. Hotchkiss, secretary of the Wisconsin highway commission, in a talk on the relation of highway work to the general welfare.

Efficiency is undermined by the public policy of under-paying its servants and changing them every once in a while, said Mr. Hirst, in his talk late Wednesday afternoon. Salaries do not attract or hold the men who should fill positions in highway work, he said.

Frank Artillery Cannon will preside as toastmaster at the tenth annual road school dinner to be held at the Park hote Thursday evening.

Hemlock Men Are For Dry Legislation

J. S. Landon, manager of the Medford Lumber Company, Medford, today wrote the dry leaders at Madison saying that resolution protesting the recent action of the federal grand jury at Milwaukee in petitioning for legalization of beer, and were unanimously adopted by the annual meeting of the Northern Hemlock Hardwood Manufacturers Association at its annual meeting in Milwaukee, and the president was instructed to name an official representative to appear at the public hearings and urge passage of the Matheson bill No. 16 A. The Association took exception to the jury's plea that prohibition had injured logging operations.

Ask Normal School For Rhinelander

A new state normal at Rhinelander is provided in a bill soon to be introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman J. D. Grandine, Florence. The board of normal regents has passed upon the site, the assemblyman said, and the bill will provide an appropriation of $50,000 annually for three years.

HITS SOFTENING PLANT PROJECT

Groves Declares Chemicals Would Ruin Drinking Water

"A water-softening plant would destroy Madison's greatest municipal asset—sparkling, fresh water," said John W. Groves, Thursday. "Madison has been used as an experiment station too much so for the tax-payer, and I think any proposal to install an expensive water-softening plant should be submitted to a vote of the people. We have the best drinking water in the country, and introducing chemicals would ruin it."

It was when Mr. Groves was mayor that the practicability of supplying the iity with water pumped from wells was demonstrated. The other alternative would have been Lake Mendota water.

The special committee investigating the advisability of constructing a water-softening plant was to meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to decide what steps are to be taken.

Marketing Conference Will be Held Here

A conference open to the public is announced by the Division of Markets for Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 11:00 a. m. in the Common Council Chamber, City Hall, Milwaukee, in the matter of concentration freight rates on dairy products and eggs.

WOULD ABOLISH CHEESE BOARD

Claim Plymouth Board Buys at Low Prices and Sell at High

Legislative gossip is to the effect that a bill may be introduced in the lower house within the next few days for the abolition of the Plymouth Cheese board. It is claimed by some of the farmers who are interested in cheese factories that the Plymouth board keeps down the price of milk to the farmer during the summer months and then raises the price of cheese during the winter, which cheese has been manufactured from low priced milk. It is claimed that farmers interested in the Wisconsin Cheese Federation, one of the largest concerns in the country, believe that the cheese board at Plymouth should be abolished as a price fixing concern.

Uric Acid Poisoning

(By Dr. N. C. Cook)

A poison as dangerous as strychnin is manufactured within our own bodies, called uric acid. When it accumulates in the body and the kidneys fail to carry it off, we suffer from dull headache, sleeplessness, muscular pains, lumbago, or it may cause rheumatism or gout. The uric acid can be seen in the cloudy sediment in the water—what is called the "brick-dust," noted on the sides of the vessel containing it—after a few hours' standing. The water is scant, high-colored, strongly acid, and this should be a danger sign, and if not taken in time by cutting out the meat, tea and alcohol, may end in rheumatism or gout.

Take "An-uric," first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. Anuric (anti-uric acid) Tablets can be obtained at almost any drug store.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

When nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the cases of prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some disarrangement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter proves that no other remedy is so successful as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Day was now living on a farm a few miles farther along on the pike. Mr. Windlass gave his daughter a fine home for a wedding present when she married, and several sheep, goats, and a cow or two, and Day, her husband and children were among the goats that were given her.

At the thought of leaving her darlings, the soft hearted Nannie began to cry softly to herself, but Billy would never have known that she was crying had not a great tear dropped on his nose.

"Why, Nannie! Bless my soul if it's not raining out of a clear sky. I felt a drop of water on my nose."

As Nannie did not answer, he looked up and saw that she was crying.

"Why, old lady! What is the matter? Crying at the mere thought of leaving our grandchildren? Don't you see, Nannie, that it is better to say good-bye to them for a little while than it would be to stay and be unexpectedly driven to the butcher's some fine morning, there to be cut up into chops and roasts?"

"Oh! Don't speak of it, Billy. It makes my flesh creep and the cold chills run down my spine. But Billy, don't you think that we are pretty old to undertake such a long trip? What would we do if you were taken with one of your spells of rheumatism? You know you are very likely to suffer if you sleep on the damp grass, and then if that corn on my left foot got to bothering me so that I could not walk, we would be in a pretty plight."

"Oh, goodness gracious me, Nannie. You are a regular old ninny like Miss Perkins up at the house. She is always looking for trouble and crossing her bridges before she comes to them."

"Well, I don't care," whimpered Nannie. "I believe in avoiding trouble if one can, rather than in rushing into it."

"So do I," said Billy, "but it won't do to sit down here and let it overtake us, as it surely will if we remain."

"If we could only carry a lunch basket and a bottle of liniment with us as people do when they travel I wouldn't mind, but to start without knowing where you are going to find a bed to sleep on or where you can find a morsel to eat is a more serious matter."

"I will attend to all that, so you need not worry," said Billy. "Have I not always found a good place for you to sleep and plenty for you to eat and drink?"

"Yes, you have, Billy. You have been a most thoughtful husband; but I do grieve to leave the old farm where our two children were born and where we have lived such a peaceful, happy life."

"Little wife, you are just like all timid people who cling to the old, and are afraid of new things, but that is better than being like many who are afraid of nothing and who rush into danger and do all sorts of foolhardy things."

"I see that you have fully made up your mind to go, so I may as well begin to say good-bye, first as last, to all our old friends on the farm."

"Not so fast! Not so fast! That is not my plan. We will go about it more systematically than that. First, we will wait until we are in good condition ourselves, then we will choose a fine day soon after a storm, as the rain will lay the dust and it will be less disagreeable traveling than it would be were there clouds of it to choke and make us thirsty; besides, the rain will have washed the grass by the roadside, making it clean and palatable and it will also have filled the little streams with water, so that we can drink whenever we choose."

(Tomorrow they tell their friends they are going away.)

DAIRIES GAVE STATE BOOST

U. W. Report Outlines Reasons for Badger Prosperity

Wisconsin's change from a single crop state to a dairy and live stock state, starting in 1890, marks the beginning of her present prosperity, the annual report of the Agricultural Extension service of the University of Wisconsin points out.

The "ebb tide" of American agriculture was reached in 1890. The date is important in Wisconsin's agricultural history since it was at this time that that diversified farming took the place of the wheat crop which was bringing Wisconsin's production down to the national level.

Two other important things took place in 1890. The invention of the Babcock milk tester and the founding of the Wisconsin dairy school are the two definite steps toward making Wisconsin the leading dairy state, the report claims.

When Wisconsin was first opened to settlement the land was found unusually fertile and the crop yield was much higher than the national average.

MILWAUKEE—G. Schaub and F. ...dbury did some of the real ...ring of the 1921 Wisconsin state ...ling tourney Wednesday afternoon, when they took the lead in the ...bles event with a total of 1,225.

Woodbury, whom dopesters have ...arded as being one of the old timers, sprang a big surprise, and with ...s partner, Schaub, probably cinched first money in the two man event.

The first game went bad for both these stars, Schaub getting 160 and Woodbury 184. In the second they both managed to score over the 200 mark. In the third and last game both shot exceptionally well and the pins dropping in great style, managed to turn in a 466 count for this game.

Their scores:

Schaub	160	213	232	605
Woodbury ..	184	202	234	620
Totals	344	415	466	1225

In bowling their high game in the series both Woodbury and Schaub ...ed just one error apiece. Two hard ...k splits were also marked up by ...h of them and these helped keep ...n the count which might have ...n been higher.

...e brothers managed to cop off ...2 score in the team event on ...'clock shift. This was one of ...ghest scores rolled up until the ...er squads took the drives.

...ree fouls, each one of them ...g probably played an important ...in keeping the Ziegler Chocolate ...No. 1 team out of first place ...day night. Although the ...n rolled a score of 2825 and went ...third place, they had an excep...al opportunity of copping the ...honors. Matt Blau had a foul, while Schaub had two of them. In all three cases these fouls were very costly.

Their scores are as follows:

A. Froemming	171	181	170—	522
George Inden.	205	210	194—	609
G. Schaub....	157	153	158—	468

Championship Bout Delayed To Labor Day

NEW YORK —Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, last night gave out that the Dempsey-Willard fight, which Dempsey announced in Los Angeles was off, had been postponed with the consent of both participants until Labor Day, Sept. 5.

Rickard said he would stage a bout on that day between Willard and the winner of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout, under the terms of Willard's existing contract.

"For various reasons, I have decided to postpone the Dempsey-Willard match until Labor Day," said Rickard. "While both Dempsey and Willard are willing and eager to observe the original contract and meet in Madison Square Garden on March 17, I have decided that the contest had better be staged in the open, following the Dempsey-Carpentier match of July 2.

"The surprising demand for tickets for the Dempsey-Willard bout makes it clear that the Garden would accommodate but a fraction of those who desire to see the bout.

"I shall, therefore, erect a large open air arena for the international contest, and stage a match between Willard and the winner of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout under the existing contract, on Sept. 5. This change of date is made with the consent and approval of both Dempsey and Willard."

Rickard said he intends to erect an open air arena in the vicinity of this city early this Spring and transfer his boxing organization to that site during the Summer months.

Ed Lewis Agrees To Bar Headlock

NEW YORK — Ed "Strangler" Lewis, champion heavy weight wrestler, has consented to discard the headlock, the punishing hold which gained him the title. Lewis and his manager, Billy Sandow, have assured Curley they are prepared to discontinue the hold because of the public objection to its use. Just to show there is no feeling of fear of the headlock by one big fellow, Tex Rickard issued a challenge to Lewis on behalf of Martin Plestina, who offers to permit Lewis to use his favorite hold.

JUDGE LANDIS IS UNDER FIRE

Question Right to Act as Baseball Arbitrator and Judge

(By Federated Press)

WASHINGTON — Congressional investigation to determine whether Judge Landis is permitted under law to continue as federal judge of the northern Illinois district while acting as "arbitrator of organized baseball" at an annual salary of $42,500 is proposed in a resolution introduced by Rep. Welty, dem., of Ohio.

The house judiciary committee would be authorized by the resolution to conduct the inquiry and to determine whether any action should be taken by congress.

The measure mentioned that Judge Landis would receive a combined salary of $50,000 a year from his duties as judge and baseball arbitrator.

Comets in Easy Win Over "Whizbangs"

The Comets banged up the Whizbangs last night 22 to 15, desiring to soar still higher, they now issue a challenge to any cage team averaging 125 pounds—or less. Harry Nelson, manager, can be reached at Fairchild 129. The lineup:

Comets		Whizbangs
O'Connell	RF	Cripps
Hamacher	LF	Oldenburg
Richardson	C	Halback
Nelson	RG	Daley
Stanzel	LG	Yeager

Baskets—Nelson 4, Richardson 4, Stanzel 1, O'Connell 1, Hamacher 1, Oldenberg 2, Halback 3, Daley 1, Cripps 1. Free throws—Cripps 1 out of 1.

Arie Sets Record in Indoor Trap Event

NEW YORK—A new indoor trap shooting record for consecutive hits, 144, was established in the professional indoor tournament at Madison Square garden yesterday by Mark Arie of Champaign, Ill. Arie, who won the Olympic championship last year, is making his first appearance as a professional. His consecutive hits ended in the fifth round of the championship event when he missed an easy shot on the 145th bird.

CHARLEY WHITE IS SUSPENDED

Wisconsin Commission Rules Out Boxer for Six Months

MILWAUKEE—Charley White, who was chased out of the ring in Kenosha recently for putting up an unsatisfactory bout, was suspended for six months by the state athletic commission on Wednesday. White did not appear before the commission but was represented by John H. Lyle, a Chicago lawyer. Lyle presented a batch of affidavits from Chicago business men who witnessed the bout in question and were satisfied with the showing made by the Chicago boxer.

Inasmuch as he signed a contract with the Kenosha club to appear in fit physical condition his admission was enough to convict him in the eyes of the commission, who felt that he had not kept faith with the club.

McWHIRTER LEADS IN NATIONAL ICE CHAMPIONSHIP GO

Chicago Skate Shark Tops Field at Saranac Amateur Meet

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—Roy Whirter of Chicago now leads with 80 points in the national amateur speed skating congress here. Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid and Charles Gorman of New Brunswick, Can., are tied for second with 60 each.

McWhirter finished third in the senior two mile championship. Joe Moore of New York won the event. McWhirter took the half mile championship.

Eleven men lined up for the start of the final in the two mile contest, including Jewtraw, William Steinmetz of Chicago, McWhirter, E. Gloster of Toronto, Joe Moore of New York, and Gus Fetz of Chicago, who qualified in the first heat. The men to qualify for the final in the second heat included Jack Stowell of Minneapolis.

Today's events for the seniors included the 440 yard and three mile championships. By the end of tonight's racing this year's national amateur champion will be crowned.

The Willard and Dempsey fight is again delayed. Kearn, Dempsey's manager, is at the bottom of it.

* * *

The heavyweights in the last 10 years have almost killed the game. The little fellows are trying to make it a business proposition while Kearns and Dempsey have got Jesse James beat a million ways for staging holdups.

* * *

This entire outfit should be just run out of the game as fast as Duffy ran the hundred yard dash, but I guess Barnum was right. They seem to eat his bunk up.

* * *

Chances are if Dempsey looked around at the crowd in the ring and did not see a loose million dollars pin money, he would go on a strike in the middle of a knockout punch for more spending money.

* * *

These birds will have Babe Ruth go on a strike for more money next near in the middle of a home run.

* * *

And Willard's comeback proves that the first hundred years is the hardest.

* * *

Madison gets the 1922 bowling tournament. Great stuff! Was beat out of it for the last two years when they should have had it. They can fool you once in a while but not all the time. Ask Hy Schmidt, who slipped them the dope just what Madison can do here next year.

* * *

They claim when Hy got done talking he made Green Bay, who put in a strong bid for it, look like Burke, Wis., compared to the capital city.

* * *

Willie Green, who fought two swell fights for Boyd here, is back in Chicago. Most people have an idea that Willie was knocked out by ex-Champion Welsh in New York.

* * *

But it is not so. Welsh knocked Willie "Kid" Green, New York news boy. He never fought the Chicago Willie Green. He now weighs 135, just what he needed when he fought here last.

SPETHS QUINT WIN OVERTIME JUDEAN GAME

Losers Question Decision of Umpire; Score is 12 to 10

Despite the fact that the referee decided the game played last night at the Longfellow gym between the Young Judea Juniors and the Speth five, to Speth's team, the losers declare that it was an unwarranted decision and refuse to abide by it.

When the ball is touched by any player who is out of bounds, the ball is dead, and a basket cannot be made until a man on the opposing team has tossed the sphere into the court again, the captain of the Young Judea Juniors insists, and he is backed in his contention by the 1920-21 official basketball rulings.

After playing a 10 to 10 tie, the referee announced that a 5-minute overtime session would be played to determine the winner. With 40 seconds left to play, Bridge, substitute center for the Speths, stepped out of bounds, according to the Judea captain, and the referee blew his whistle. At that instant, Bridge pivoted and tossed the ball into the basket. The referee awarded the contest to the Speths, though, according to Judea's captain, he admitted having blown his whistle for the man who stepped out of bounds.

The game was awarded to the Speths by a score of 12 to 10. The lineup:

Judea Juniors		Speths
Chechik	rf	Speths
Matheson	lf	Sanders
Miller	c	Burgen
Becker	rg	Koellen
Olsher	lg	Lynaugh

Substitutes—Bridge for Burgen.

Baskets—Chechik 2, Matheson 1, Becker 1, Hamacher 1, Lynaugh 1, Bridge 1.

Free throws—Chechik 2, Sanders 4.

Batchelor Quints Beat Epsilon Eta

Batchelor Five swamped the Epsilon Eta by a score of 33 to 20. Chase led his team with two field goals in the first few minutes of play. Every player was on his feet until the final whistle blew. The score at the end of the first half was 11 to 10 with the victors on the long end.

Wrong Numbers
If, for any reason, you are connected with a telephone other than the one you called, move the receiver hook slowly up and down four or five times, or until the operator answers. (The signal will not operate if hook is moved rapidly.)
Tell her that you have been given a wrong number, and repeat the number you called for.
This routine is necessary to avoid the possibility of having the nickel "collected" by the operator (if using a coin box telephone), or having the call charged (if using a measured service telephone). There is, of course, no charge where a wrong number is given, but sometimes the operator does not know about it and should be told.

Stomach Gave Her Years of Torture

Could hardly stand on her feet. Eats anything now.

"For years I suffered with stomach trouble in its worst form. It was so bad at times I could hardly stand on my feet. I lost my appetite and what little I did eat formed gas in my stomach so bad that it bloated me all up, and caused me to suffer with shortness of breath and pains around my heart. I was completely worn out and felt bad all the time.

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised in the daily papers and decided to try it, and I want to tell you I commenced to improve before I finished the first bottle. My appetite has returned and I can now eat anything without any trouble afterwards. My stomach trouble has entirely disappeared and I sleep like a log every night. In fact I feel as well as I ever did."—Mrs. O. J. Zecha, 535 Charles St., St. Paul, Minn.

The blessed relief which Milks Emulsion gives in stomach trouble, is only part of its good work. The benefit is both prompt and lasting. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee: Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by the Luckey Pharmacies and all first class druggists.—Adv.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounce of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidney swill then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

BUREAU NAMES WAUKESHA MAN

George M'Kerrow is Head of Farm Bureau Federation

George McKerrow, Waukesha county, was elected president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation last night by the delegates from 20 of the 25 counties which already have farm bureau organizations. It was the first annual meeting and election of the federation.

Other officers elected were J. H. Murphy of Walworth county, vice president; Chris J. Schroeder, Racine county, secretary; and C. W. Keys of Fond du Lac county, treasurer.

On the board of directors are: H. C. Hemingway, Rock county; S. A. Baird, Waukesha; B. F. Sheridan, Fond du Lac; Paul Goven, Walworth; C. S. Ristow, Jackson; D. C. Fidler, Door; Orin Fletcher, La Crosse, and F. J. Miller, Kenosha.

Plans to extend the farm bureau movement into all counties were discussed by the delegates, and J. R. Howard, national president, spoke of the activities of the bureau in other states, of which all but Mississippi and Alabama have farm bureau organizations.

About 200 women have registered in the short course in home economics, and new names are being added daily to the roll. The use of household machinery is stressed in today's program.

ANTI-VENEREAL CRUSADE IS ON

State Board Would Check Heavy Toll in Wisconsin

An accurate computation of what citizens of Wisconsin pay in dollars and cents each year to the account of veneral diseases cannot be made, says the bureau of social hygiene of the state board of health. Of the untold suffering of the innocent and guilty, and of the number of deaths caused annually, enough is known, however, to give an idea of no uncertain character as to the price they pay for these diseases. Into this account goes the cost of sickness, inability, loss of time and the amount spent by the state year after year for supporting, in its insane asylums and other dependent institutions, the hundreds of men, women and children on account of these maladies.

It is not the number of persons they kill, large as it is, which is the greatest economic factor, the bureau maintains, but the impaired health and reduced efficiency of their thousands of victims. In the army venereal diseases proved persistent enemies of efficienty and production.

This experience led the government to embark upon a nationwide crusade, with a program of education, prevention, treatment, rehabilitation and restoration. The government estimates the vigorous application of this program has saved at least a million young men from venereal diseases.

What this program did for the men of the army the state of Wisconsin is trying to do for the citizenship of the state. Similar machinery for prevention and control has been at work in this state for nearly two years, and with beneficient results of the same degree.

Redouble Efforts To Fight Diptheria

RACINE, Wis.—With the slogan "A death from diphtheria is a disgrace" the health department has announced its determination to intensify its effort in combating the dread disease. An examination of available records indicates a distinct increase in the number of cases reported. Since August, when six cases were listed, the total has steadily increased until at the end of January 352 cases had been reported with 22 deaths resulting.

Romantic Story of the State is Told in An Old Document

Writes a Chapter of Early State History Marveled at Its Progress; Indians Held Northern Section of State and Agriculture Was in Its Infancy.

By FRED L. HOLMES

WITH the population of Wisconsin in excess of 2,600,000, the amount of activities in the state in 1835, one year before its admission to statehood draws an interesting contrast. In 1856, twenty years after the creation of the Wisconsin Territory, Milwaukee was a city of 35,000, a little smaller than Madison at the present day. At that time Madison was a city of about 10,000. The story of sturdy pioneers who helped to build the foundation of Wisconsin's prosperity have been gathered by Wisconsin Historical society. With the legislature in session in Madison this year enacting laws for a state with a population of over 2,600,000 the story of Stephen Taylor of Mineral Point who visited Wisconsin in 1835, has a peculiar interest. He was familiar with life in Milwaukee, Madison and Mineral Point and has left a remarkable interesting picture of these communities.

"In the year 1835 I pitched my tent at Mineral Point," says Stephen Taylor in an old report which he sent to the Historical society, "one of the principle nucleuses of the early settlements of the Northwest, prior to which time West Michigan was but sparsely populated. Agriculture occupied very limited attention; mining, smelting, and their requisite mechanical vocations, almost exclusively absorbed the industrial interests of the people of the lead mines. Subsequently, July 4, 1836, Wisconsin Territory, covering the regions embraced by Iowa and Minnesota, merged into existence, with a total population (in 1835) of about 12,000 (including Oneida, Stockbridge and Brothertown Indians, some of whom enjoy the rights of civilized citizens), and nearly 7,000 of whom resided east of the Mississippi river. The state, under its present limits, numbered in 1850 over 305,000, and in 1855, it contained over 550,000. This rapid influx to me is not at all surprising; for as nature allotted a portion of our favored country as an earthly paradise, Wisconsin, with its fertility of soil and salubrity of climate, is eminently qualified in such distinction.

Saw Big Growth

"After an absence of over twelve years from Wisconsin, I was amazed, during a recent visit, at the change time had wrought in its progress. Milwaukee is now rapidly acquiring importance as a great city, having a population of over 30,000, with immense commercial business and business capacity; her streets are spacious, well graded and paved, her public and business houses and private mansions are constructed upon magnificent scales, and of tasty architecture; the brick used for building are of a beautiful buff color and of fine texture, which gives to the whole city the pleasing aspect, as I fancy it, of a tall prim Quakeress, clothed in plain, buff colored garb.

"Madison, the second in population in the state, now numbers upwards of 8,600 inhabitants. The city, upon an isthmus, or, more properly, upon a peninsula, between Lakes Mendota and Monona, about three-fourths of a mile in width at its narrowest point has an irregular undulating surface, though of easy and accessible grades in all directions.

"In the summer of 1836, with a comrade, I camped at the head of Mendota, within six miles of the spot where the Capitol now stands, at which time there was not within twenty miles of that point, a single white inhabitant, and none within the present limits of Dane county, an area of 1,240 square miles, excepting Col. E. Brigham, at the Blue Mounds, and those of his household. Contrast the present with the condition of the country nearly twenty years ago, when the Indian and the deer, unmolested, roamed the forest and the plain, and you behold the county of Dane with over 37,000 enlightened and industrious people and the flourishing city of Madison, the concentration of fashion and influence, vieing with older cities for pre-eminence as the seat of science, literature and arts, with her university, State Historical society, State Agricultural society, Natural History association, public libraries, and various other local institutions, respectably comparing with those of similar character in the eastern states.

"Prairie du Chien, at its confluence with the Wisconsin river, contains about 2,000 inhabitants, hough, like Rip Van Winkle, she has reposed for many years. A railroad, in progress from Milwaukee terminates here, and the prospect of the near approach of the 'iron horse,' with its shrill whistle, seems to have aroused her citizens from their lethargy. The superior steamboat landing and her agricultural and other advantages, warrant for this ancient frontier trading post, at no distant day, an eminent position as a populous commercial city.

Many Were Indians

"Between Prairie du Chien and the Falls of St. Anthony, the country prior to 1839, contained few inhabitants other than semi-civilized Indians; who occupied many of the prominent locations which now flourish as populous miniature cities; the most important of which are Lansing, in Iowa, Prairie La Crosse, Prescott and Hudson, in Wisconsin, and Winona, Red Wing, Wabasha, Stillwater, St. Paul and St. Anthony, connected with Minneapolis by a wire suspension bridge, from an island above the cataract, in Minnesota. These are all eligible points in every view, yet, as inducements to capitalists and business adventurers would it not tend to advantageous results in the prosperity of these cities, were the proprietors to reduce the price of grounds to a grade at least as low as that of New York or Philadelphia?

"For some time prior to the settlement of the Lead Mines, the miners were licensed to explore and occupy the mineral lands in that region, though in consequence of the hostility of the Indians to the explorations and encroachments of the whites, they seldom ventured far beyond that protection which numerical strength and the defensive organization near Galena secured.

"It was in the autumn of 1827, upon the cessation of the Winnebago disturbances, that the more daring and enterprising banded together in well armed squads, overrun the country prospecting in all directions.

At the Diggings

"It was customary, upon the discovery of new diggings, to distinguish them by some appellation, so this locality was formally called 'Mineral Point,' and hence the name of the present village.

"Females, in consequence of the dangers and privations of those primitive times, were as rare in the diggings, as snakes upon the Emerald Isle, consequently the bachelor miner, from necessity, performed the domestic duties of cook and washerman, and the preparation of meals was indicated by appending a rag to an upright pole, which fluttering in the breeze, telegraphically conveyed the glad tidings to his hungered brethren upon the hill. Hence, this circumstance, at a very early date, gave the provincial sobriquet of 'Shake Rag' or 'Shake Rag under the Hill,' which that part of the now flourishing village at Mineral Point, lying under the hill, has acquired, and which in all probability it will ever retain. So much for the origin of Mineral Point."

Judgment of $11,937 Granted by Stevens

A judgment of $11,937.90 was granted E. A. Everett, G. W. Everett and J. W. Aigherbaugh, members of the firm of Everett & Aigherbaugh, against O. S. Johnson of Madison and A. D. German of Richland Center by Judge Stevens of the circuit court yesterday.

The plaintiff company alleged that this amount was due them on account of losses suffered by the cancellation of several thousand barrels of flour during 1920.

ASKS PENALTY FOR RAILROADS

Bennett Bill Would Enforce 2 Cent Rate in State

Railroads in Wisconsin would be required to forfeit $10,000 a day for complying with the decision of the U. S. supreme court should that body uphold the interstate commerce commission in its order establishing a 3.6 fare for Wisconsin, under terms of an amendment to the statutes proposed by J. Henry Bennett of Viroqua, now before the judiciary committee.

Sen. Bennett's bill is an effort to force railroads to conform to the provision in Wisconsin law which sets the rate at two cents a mile. It was introduced in anticipation of a decision of the supreme court in the rate case favorable to the railroads.

The present statute establishing the two cent fare on all railroads throughout Wisconsin, would be amended to read by Senator Bennett's bill that:

"Any railroad corporation that shall violate this section must forfeit to the state $10,000 a day for each day it continues to violate this act after the enactment of this amendment.

"Such forfeiture shall be collected by suit in the circuit court of Dane county in action to be brought in the name of the state on the relation or complaint of the attorney general or any citizen of the state.

"If any such forfeiture shall be collected in a suit brought by a citizen, the citizen bringing the suit shall be awarded a portion of the recovery, in the discretion of the court, not exceeding five per cent of the recovery."

NEW WAR ON RUM STARTED

Seek to Stop Smuggling and Warehouse Withdrawals

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Frank B. Richardson, regional prohibition enforcement director, went to Detroit today to supervise action to be taken by his agents against liquor smugglers who are getting whiskey into the U. S. from Canada by airplane, boat and automobile, he declared.

Mr. Richardson said the order from Washington limiting druggists withdraways of whiskey from warehouses to five cases practically stops alleged bootlegging from that source. His attention will be dit . . p N-o. o —fwno shrd cmfw sh rected now, he said toward Canadian rum running.

Extend Activities, Social Workers Urge

Extension of present activities for the betterment of child health in the state has received the endorsement of organized welfare workers. At its last meeting, the legislative committee of the state conference of social work passed resolutions favoring the expansion of child welfare work as planned by the state board of health, and approving adequate resources for the state board of control to enable it to administer more effectively some of the present laws on child welfare, relating to delinquency dependence and neglect. The district conference of the same organization will support this program before the legislature.

Fishing Through Ice Is Profitable Sport

MARINETTE, Wis. — Lovers of hook and line fishing are having great sport, and profitable sport, catching herring through the ice. During the past two weeks the shore south from Little Sturgeon north to the end of the peninsula has been alive with the finest species of herring ever caught in Green Bay. The fish are caught in large numbers out at the mouth and around Little Harbor. No bait is needed, only something bright on the hook, such as a piece of red flannel. The hook used is generally one without a barb and as the fish are jerked out of the water, an extra twist of the wrist and the fish is thrown off of the hook without touching it.

Battery E Mustered In At Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Battery E, First Wisconsin Field Artillery, was mustered into federal service by Captain Pickering, U. S. A. The armory here is considered by the state's officers as one of the best in the state.

The battery mustered in included five commission officers, also noncommissioned officers and 60 enlisted men. The unit will be furnished with four guns, 12 caissons, battery commander's car, tractors, rolling kitchen, supply trucks, motor trucks and motorcycles. The equipment will cost approximately $75,000.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"Yes, Mrs. Smith Resinol is wonderful"

"We always keep a jar on hand. It is the best thing I know for eczema and similar ills, and it is so gentle and soothing it is excellent for cuts, burns, or sores. We use Resinol Soap also—it's ideal for the complexion and bath. Yes, you can get all the Resinol products from your druggist."

Corn.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening ⅛ cent off to a like advance including May at 65@⅝ the market hardened some- what and then underwent a general ing.

Despite falling off in the volume of receipts the arrivals continued to exceed the demand. Both corn and oats touched the lowest prices so far this season. Closing quotations were weak at ½ to ⅞ cents net de- cline with May 64⅝ @ ⅝.

Oats.

Oats were governed by the course of other cereals, starting unchang- ed to a shade lower, then scoring moderate gains and later heading down grade.

Provisions.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

STOCK MARKET PRICES LOWER

Pressure Against Speculative Shares is Resumed

NEW YORK—Pressure against speculative shares was resumed at the outset of today's stock market session, the stiffer money tendencies inviting further selling for both accounts. Oils were again the heaviest features with steels and specialties, the latter including mail order shares. General Asphalt, Mexican Petroleum and Royal Dutch lost a point or more in the first few sales and crucible showed a decline of 2¾. Sears Roebuck added moderately to its steady recession and Northern Pacific, yesterday's strongest stock, reacted 1¼. Exchange on London was inclined to ease.

High grade rails as well as the prominent oils and shippings became involved in the more active selling of the final hour. The 9 per cent money rate afforded an excuse for an extension of the reaction. The closing was weak.

Tax-Dodging Millionaires

The War is Over Now and the Makers of Excessive Profits Are Demanding a New Deal.

THERE was rich picking for the profiteers in 1918. It was the year of big war contracts, of the Hog-Island deal, of the sale and lease of war-camp sites, and of the creation of new towns, through war industry.

Yet income tax returns for 1918 show that there were 5,248 fewer persons paying on millionaires' incomes than in the previous year. How did this happen?

The New York Times gives an explanation in a recent issue. And nobody can accuse the Times of being unfriendly to the great accumulators of wealth. It says:

"Millionaires know how to pay their taxes in strict accordance with the law, and in such a manner that they do not pay too much in punishment for their wealth, according to lawful standards. By putting their money in exempt securities, provided for the purpose, they keep their income intact, but also divert their wealth from more remunerative investments."

The millionaires were caught for big taxes in 1917, but they learned from their lawyers to practice many methods of evasion in 1918. But they are not satisfied, and they are making a strong push for a complete revolution in our system of federal taxation. A typical program of revision is that agreed upon by the Milwaukee Association of Commerce as the result of a thorough discussion and a referendum.

The Milwaukee papers say that as to the excess profit tax there was a uninimity of opinion that it must be repealed, and that the revenue now derived from it must not be provided by a higher income tax.

A tax on consumption is recommended to take the place of the excess profit tax They call it a "turn-over tax." It is a series of sales taxes. It is suggested that a one per cent tax be collected on each sale of raw material to manufacturers, then again upon the manufacturers' sale of his products, then another one per cent on the jobbers' sales, and finally a one per cent tax on the retailers' sales.

Another change in the revenue law which the Milwaukee men favor is this: "Net losses and inventory losses of any year should make the taxpayer entitled to a re-determination of income taxes of the preceding year."

Other features of taxation favored by the Milwaukee program are as follows: "There should be NO GRADUATED TAX on undistributed corporation earnings; each individual stockholder of the corporation should NOT pay his own normal tax; income from any new issues of securities which may lawfully be made subject to federal tax, should NOT BE SUBJECT TO LEVY; incomes of Americans, resident abroad, derived abroad, and not remitted to the United States should NOT BE TAXED; profits from the sales from capital assets should be allocated over the period in which they were earned and be taxed at the rates for the several years of that period.

What the Milwaukee board of trade is doing in bringing pressure to bear on congress to make taxes lighter for the business men of Milwaukee and correspondingly heavier for other people, is in pursuance of suggestions from the United States Chamber of Commerce, and is being done by organized business men all over the United States.

The success of the movement will depend in large measure upon counter-organizations of wage-workers, farmers and small business men, and upon what they can do to show up the injustice of the proposed program of the chambers of commerce.

The latter are very much in earnest, very active, they have most of the newspapers with them, and will probably have congress with them. When the war was on, the demand that wealth should be conscripted had considerable weight. Hence the excess profits tax. But the war is over and the makers of excessive profits are demanding a new deal.

SENATOR BENNETT'S BILL

DANE county will be greatly interested in the bill to be introduced in the senate by Senator J. Henry Bennett for curbing the evils surrounding the buying of tobacco in the field.

It has been the practice for many buyers to buy tobacco in the field on a contract. When the tobacco is ready for delivery in January the buyer many times refuses to take it if the market goes down and finds various excuses for refusing to take the tobacco.

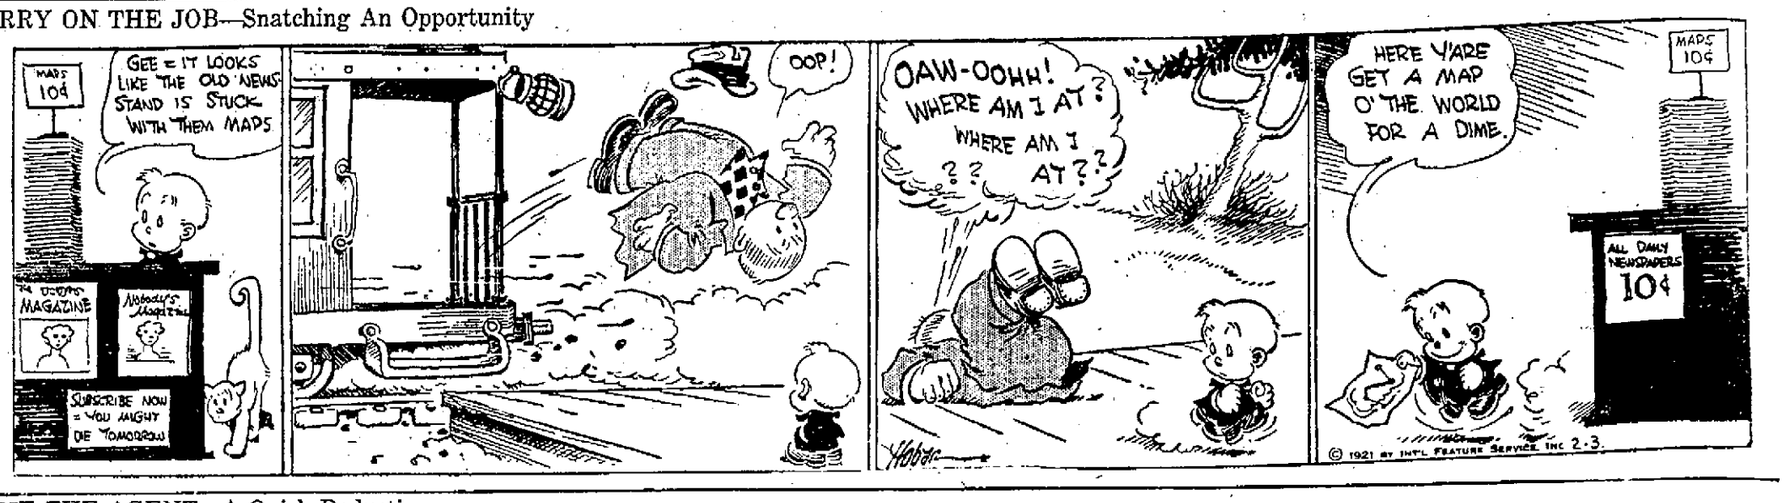

In this manner the buyer has the edge and the farmer holds the bag. The bill to be introduced by Senator Bennett is a worthy one and many tobacco growers in Dane county will be indebted to the Vernon county senator for a measure of this kind.

THE "PROFITS" OF WAR

A compilation of statistics prepared by the Savings Bank association of New York would make it appear that several nations, including our own, actually made vast profits out of the recent war. It is claimed, for instance, that Great Britain "made" not less than fifty billion dollars, the United States a like amount, France thirty-five billions, while Italy and Belgium are alleged to have added about one-third to their national wealth, and Japan to have increased her fortune one-half. On the other hand, it is figured that Germany lost sixty-five billions, Austria about forty billions, and Turkey and Bulgaria something like three billions.

While the estimated losses are entitled to credence, the same scarcely can be said of the war profits credited to the other nations as listed. Considering the actual destruction of property and other losses properly charged to the war, together with the inevitable waste and irrecoverable expense, it is impossible to believe that any nation actually "made" anything by this operation. Moreover, when the war debts are taken into account, it seems plain that something is wrong with the calculation that figures profits in excess of losses. And the tax payers of every country will have geen reason to doubt the correctness of any claim of this kind.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Voice Of The People

FROM MR. SIMONDS

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

A reader from Kewaunee under the heading of "The Old Log School," speaks of my article "Against Blue Laws" and consolidation of schools. I merely spoke of consolidation as not being a good step to take but in an article appearing later I spoke of some of the disadvantages but did not speak of the advantages. Some of advantages claimed is better schools, better teachers, and a cure for the teacher shortage, all of which may or may not be true; in my mind there is a question involved but if true, does not counterbalance the fact that our schools then, are to be run on a compulsory basis, and in many respects will resemble the schools of Germany before the war. In other words, they will be entirely under the control of capitalism, and such books and teachers that are in them will work entirely for that system, and the poorer class will pay the bills.

Reader asks if a state inspector can condemn a school house by pounding on the outside wall and writing a letter to the board that it is condemned. Yes, if the people stand for that sort of thing. Our present department of education has been in power some sixteen years, yet the officials or some of them say our rural schools are a disgrace. I wonder what they have been doing all these years? I'll tell you. Trying to take the people's schools away from them and putting them entirely out of their control. The remark made by the supervisor is typical of the remarks made by Institute Conductors State Inspectors for the past four years. It behooves the common people to wake up and retire these people to private life and rally round the Little Old Red School House by building more of them instead of less and building them as modern building. Gov. John J. Blaine is to write a message in a few days on education. I hope and trust it will not be in favor of consolidation but in the interest of the people's schools as they are, the best in the world. WM. A. SIMONDS.

FOR JAMES THOMPSON

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

While I have the greatest confidence in the ability of our governor, and the success of his administration, may I without reflection, propose that Gov. Blaine consider the Hon. James Thompson of La Crosse for appointment to the Railroad Commission as Mr. Allen's successor.

I believe no appointment would merit greater confidence in the progressive administration than entrusting to "Big Jim" the difficult task that goes with the appointment. Perhaps Big Jim is more thoroughly conversant with transportation and other public utilities questions, including rates and service, than any other person in Wisconsin.

From all over the state the proposed appointment of Judge Rosa to the Tax Commission, Morrissey as Supt. of Public Property, and the appointment of Mr. Emery to the Dairy and Food Commission, have won unanimous approval, and I believe Mr. Blaine would maintain this approval by appointing the Hon James Thompson as Railroad Commissioner.

COLORADO GOVERNOR SUGGESTS CONVENTIONS

Gov. Shoup of Colorado in his message to the legislature, declared the direct primary law was unwieldy and expensive, recommending a return to the convention nominating system. The condensed report of the message said nothing further, except that unless a better working system could be adopted, it should be replaced by the convention. Nothing in the abstract was noticed as to the unrepresentative character of the direct primary, nor as to the candidate made platforms, but it may be easily imagined that the governor does recognize that the people are not represented by the initiative nomination.—Racine Journal-News.

WANT WOOD

We are pained to notice that so far the name of Major General Wood has not been mentioned for a cabinet position. It had been pretty generally assumed that being one of experience he would be slated for war secretary.—Racine Journal-News.

At The Theaters

At The Strand

THOMAS MEIGHAN in CECIL B. DeMILLE'S production "WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE?" A PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT PICTURE

At the Grand—"The Little 'Fraid Lady" is the title of the new Robertson-Cole superspecial picture, starring Mae Marsh, which will open at the Grand Theatre, for the run of three days, beginning today. "The Little 'Fraid Lady" is a screen adaptation of the popular novel, "The Girl Who Lived in the Woods," by Marjorie Benton Cooke. John G. Adolfi directed it. The story deals with the adventures of a little girl who attempts to run away from the world's wickedness.

At the Majestic—Pretty girls and good music will share honors equally is Harry Segall's sensationally successful musical farce, "Make Yourself at Home," which comes to the Majestic, Sunday Feb. 6. "Make Yourself at Home" is distinctive among musical plays in that it lays claim to a plot. Its music, too, is said to be of unusual order, while the songs are related to the action and are not the conventional interpolated numbers. Mr. Segal himself wrote the book and the lyrics are by Curley Bowen. The famous "round, good-natured" comedian, Edgar Madley, is featured and a typical Broadway cast and a carefully chosen beauty shorus.

At the Strand—The vital theme of marital infelicity and the causes that lead thereto, are splendidly portrayed in Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount Artcraft picture, "Why Change Your Wife?" which is now being shown at the Strand Theatre. While a companion picture in a sense to a former Cecil De-Mille success. "Don't Change Your Husband," the new picture is totally different in the development of the story and characterizations. Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels, Theodore Kosloff and others of note appear in the cast and an entertainment of real merit is assured all who attend the presentation of this splendid production. Comedy Cartoon is the added attraction.

On The Side

IMPORTED GENIUS.

If I were but a foreigner
And waved a wicked quill,
I would come to America
And golden coffers fill.

Americans would flock to hear
My lectures and would say
That I was quite the brightest bird
Who ever came this way.

Publishers would grab my books,
And magazines my plays,
And I would be a lion in
A lot of different ways.

When one is born a foreigner,
He's really quite the goods,
And has it on the home-grown gink
In our neck of the woods.

For he can get away with stuff
Out of a cracked brain-pan,
And gather in the Yankee dough
As no Ameri-can.

MARCEL'S DRAMATURGY.

Students in dramaturgy should be careful in their handling of pathos and humor. When a person has paid the large sum of $3.85 for an orchestra seat—and tries to get it at the box office—he is not in the mood of looking at things from the mirthful or incongruous side.

Pathos or that which excites the mental emotions should be counteracted by something which will cause merriment. When an audience is crying into the boxes of candy which they have on their laps, throw a custard pie or do do something to make them laugh. Avoid all problems, as the only problem in which people are interested today is the cost of living—and that includes the rent. Morals may have interested an audience a few years back, but today the subject is practically obsolete.

The laugh is the thing, and get it a tall cost. Never try to teach a lesson. Audiences hate sermons. Go on and write your play—the chances are that it will never be produced. Your idea will probably be stolen, and if it is not worth stealing your play is no good.

THE INCOME TAX RETURNS

The time for the annual struggle with income tax returns has now come, and for people whose business is at all complicated it is a bothersome task. It is made worse by the remoteness of the federal government and the fact that if errors are made, it may be difficult or tedious to get them corrected.

Everything possible ought to be done to simplify the law, so that most people could make out their returns without having to hunt up a federal deputy to get the law interpreted.—Merrill Daily Herald.

FRIDAY HIS STATION

Owen Johnson, the novelist, was riding on a Long Island train trying to read his evening paper, but was annoyed by two inebriated men in the seat back of him. Their conversation was meaningless drivel, but they spoke in loud voices and had evidently been on a spree of several days.

One finally leaned over to Johnson and said: "Shay, my fren, what day ish today?"

"Friday," said Johnson curtly.

"Gosh," he said in alarm as he arose unsteadily, "I gotta get off here."
